VOL X. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1901 NO. 23.

Ladies, consult my holiday goods "ad" on the fourth page; it's to your best interest.—Mrs. G. Bohl. **

On everybody's lips! What? Honeycomb candy, for sale by Dale Sweetland only.

See the Malleable Steel Range in operation at D. C. Purdy & Sons' hardware stores, just south of the postoffice from November 4 to 9 inclusive. Hot biscuits and coffee will be served all day.

Call at the NEWS-LETTER office and secure your copy of the "Life of William McKinley." Positively no more than 1,000 copies will be given away.

Mr. H. S. Harrington accompanied Rev. Pfanstiehl to the banquet of the Presbyterian Social Union of Chicago, which was held last Tuesday evening, at the Y. M. C. A. hall. The question discussed was "Social Discontent and the Church's Opportunity."

Call at the NEWS-LETTER office and secure your copy of the "Life of William McKinley." Positively no more than 1,000 copies will be given away.

Mr. Charles M. Green and family leave soon to reside in Chicago, much to the regret of a large circle of friends. A farewell tea was given Mrs. Green, with a few of her neighbors, at the residence of Mrs. Vail on Tuesday afternoon.

A. Abercromby has removed to the McDonald building, two doors north of Erskine's bank, St. Johns Ave.

On Tuesday evening the young people of the Evangelical church gave Miss Louise Kuist a pleasant surprise, it being a celebration of her birthday. There were about forty present, the evening was a most enjoyable one, spent by playing games, singing and instrumental music, after which the guests were served a lunch of coffee, cake and fruit. All adjourned feeling very much pleased and wished that Miss Lou would enjoy many more such occasions.

Call at the NEWS-LETTER office and secure your copy of the "Life of William McKinley." Positively no more than 1,000 copies will be given away.

A quiet wedding was solemnized Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benton Liveasy, 200 Arlington street, Evansville, Ind., at which time Mrs. Liveasy's sister, Miss Catherine Cameron of Ashley, Ill., and Mr. A. E. Dorsey, editor of the NEWS-LETTER of Highland Park, Ill., were united. The ceremony was read by Rev. J. E. Fisher, pastor of Trinity church, in the presence of the family and a small number of friends. The bride wore a handsome traveling suit of seal brown velvet, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bride was the recipient of a beautiful collection of choice gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey left the same evening over the Evansville and Terre Haute Railroad for Chicago, and an extended trip east. They will visit the Pan-American Exposition upon their return, and will be at home at Highland Park, Ill., after November 12.—Evansville Courier-Journal.

Everything is up-to-date at the Ladies' Bazaar. **

Mrs. Harriet Palmer and daughter Miss Helen, Mr. O. L. Olsen and Mr. B. O. Fritsch are spending the week at the Pan-American.

For passage tickets to and from Europe, apply at Erskine's Bank.

Mr. Thomas Shayne returned home yesterday from his trip to New York, and was surprised to learn that he held the lucky number which drew the barrel of oil at St. Mary's Catholic fair.

The monthly vesper services will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath at 5 p. m. Everybody is invited. These services are a fine opportunity for Highland Park people to hear and profit by fine music.

The club of young ladies that went to the Pan-American, have returned. None are lost, strayed or stolen, all report a most delightful time, the young ladies bring better reports than the young men did, the ladies are always looking for something of interest, not trifling matters.

The Rev. and Mrs. Pfanstiehl were invited into the city today to luncheon at Mr. and Mrs. Gregory's, who have just left their summer home in the Park for the winter. The occasion of the luncheon was to meet Mrs. McClelland, who is to read a paper soon before the society of the Colonial Dames, on "Dutch Customs and Life."

Alice Home, the public hospital at Lake Forest, given by the Durands, is to be further enlarged by the erection of a contagious ward, separate from the hospital. The improvement will cost $8,000, which money will be given by Mrs. H. C. Durand. The new building will be half the size of the present hospital.

Call at the NEWS-LETTER office and secure your copy of the "Life of William McKinley." Positively no more than 1,000 copies will be given away.

Mr. Dale Sweetland has shown us a beautiful lithograph of the Pacific Coast Rorax Co.'s mule team and transportation wagon. It may be of interest to our readers to know how difficult it is for this company to transport their goods across the prairie to the station with twenty-mule teams. The picture should be seen to be appreciated.

The Honeycomb candy, the latest candy that came like a comet in the candy world, for sale only by Dale Sweetland.

D. C. Purdy & Sons will give a series of demonstrations in cooking on the Malleable Steel Ranges at their large double stores just south of the postoffice, from November 4 to 9. They wish all the ladies interested to call and see for themselves the work done with half the usual amount of fuel. These demonstrations are both instructive and useful for every housewife, a special feature being the art of baking biscuits perfectly in three minutes and with one-half the fuel generally used. Hot biscuits and coffee will be served every day.

Call at the NEWS-LETTER office and secure your copy of the "Life of William McKinley." Positively no more than 1,000 copies will be given away.

WOMAN'S CLUB.

The first study class of the Highland Park Woman's Club was held Tuesday, October 29, at Library Hall. The subject under discussion was "Late Colonial and Early Republican Wit and Humor," the leader, Mrs. Frank Clark. As Mrs. Clark failed to find much wit and humor among the people of the colonial period, she was equal to the emergency and supplied the deficiency herself. Other papers were read by Mrs. Fessenden and Mrs. Clarence Gail. The subject had been thoroughly studied by the ladies, and all enjoyed the fruits of their labor.

Brings attractiveness to listless, unlovable girls, making them handsome, marriageable women. That's what Rocky Mountain Tea will do. Geo. B. Cummings. Cg-1

E. C. DICKINSON'S ENTERPRISE.

Mr. E. C. Dickenson, the well-known caterer, is now located first door north of the postoffice, in the place known as the Somerville Bakery and Restaurant. His many friends and patrons will be pleased to learn that Mr. Dickinson has not only opened his new place of business with every equipment for a first class restaurant, but is now prepared to supply the families of Highland Park with first class bread, baked fresh every day, and all other pastries of the very best quality. Orders by telephone will receive prompt attention. Mr. Dickinson declares that he will offer every inducement to increase his business, and is determined to extend every accommodation to retain the good will of his patrons.

THE OSSOLI CLUB.

The opening meeting of the Ossoli Club, for the year 1901-1902, was held at the Highland Park clubhouse, Thursday, October 24, at 3:30 o'clock. The hall and library were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. This occasion being a guest day, members of the club brought their friends, and a large and appreciative audience greeted the president, Mrs. F. D. Everett, and the essayist, Mrs. A. O. Mason.

Mrs. Mason's paper, "The Relation of Poetry to Music," was most interesting and made clear this wonderful and subtle relation. Tennyson's sad poem, "Enoch Arden," the music for which is composed by Richard Strauss, was given in illustration.

Miss Harding, of Chicago, read the poem of "Enoch Arden," so simply and so beautifully that the attention of her hearers never wavered, while Mrs. Mason, at the piano, illustrated the power that music has to portray the conditions, characters and emotions told of in poetry.

Miss Wycoff delighted all by her dramatic rendering of a song cycle by Von Felitz.

HIGHWOOD

The Peak Sisters' photo will be ready by the end of next week and several of the young men are anxious to see them.

Only the fifty or sixty feet in front of Sam Breakwell's store needs a cement sidewalk, and then the two blocks of cement sidewalk will be complete.

The Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. Shultis on next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It is understood that Mrs. Shultis will soon give that looked forward to "cobweb social." Particulars later.

Mr. Schetzley, for several years the only barber in Highwood, has after several trials elsewhere come back to his old stand. Mr. Schetzley went to Chicago and started in the livery business, finding it not a satisfactory paying business he sold out and went to Kenosha and started a barber shop again. Being unsatisfied he sold out and now is back for good, we hope. Mr. Schetzley is a splendid tonsorial artist, and his friends will give him their patronage at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Hankey celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary Monday evening with a dinner and reception.

Mr. Joe Brandle and Miss Petrine Tolleson were married Wednesday morning at Lakeside church. A reception was held at the village hall Wednesday evening.

At a recent meeting of the Lake county prohibitionists at Gray's Lake the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we hereby express our deep sorrow at the loss to the nation and the world caused by the death of our lamented chief magistrate, William McKinley, the man of loving spirit and christian faith, who judgment and magnanimity as a statesman and public servant are known to the world.

Resolved, That our sympathies are hereby extended to Mrs. McKinley in this dark hour of trial, upon the loss of her martyred husband.

Resolved, That we view with alarm the growth of this country of an element destructive of the blessings of true liberty, and inimical to the very life of our nation, and we place ourselves on record as favoring all national means for the suppression and annihilation of anarchy.
