IS IT A PLEASURE TO DIE?
 A London Writer Combats the Idea That It Is Agonizing to Shuffle Off This Mortal Coil.

The popular idea that the act of dying is a painful process often causes a fear of death. But death from even the most painful mortal diseases is usually preceded by a period of cessation from suffering and partial or complete insensibility, resembling falling asleep. The pleasant gradual unconsciousness caused by an anaesthetic, according to a writer in the London Spectator. The common phrase "death agony" is not warranted by what occurs in natural death, which is a complete relief from all pain. When death is owing to heart failure or stroke it is sudden and painless—perhaps pleasant. Death by hanging, therefore is reason to believe, is attended by a voluptuous spasm. Death by decapitation or electricity is only a momentary shock, hardly felt. Death by poisoning varies in painfulness according to the poison employed. Opium and other narcotics probably give a painless, perhaps a pleasant, dreamful death. Hemlock, as we know from the account of the death of Socrates, causes a gradual insensibility from below upward. On the other hand, arsenic, strychnine, carbolic and mineral acids, corrosive sublimate, tartar emetic, and other metallic poisons inflict slow and torturing death. Prussic acid and cyanide of potassium cause quick and painful death.

One of the most curious phases of the homesteading industry is exhibited by settlers—
Advance Agents of Civilization. and there are a good many such—who are perpetually unsettled, says the Saturday Evening Post. They will secure a promising farm, fence it in, begin breeding pigs and chickens, and then, without any apparent reason, will pull up stakes and depart with all their belongings to some other locality, which they imagine to be more eligible. Some of these people have actually traveled several times from the Mississippi river to California and back, and they are so numerous that the term "wagon children" has been accepted in the language as descriptive of those who have been brought up in wheeled vehicles. Prof. Thompson, of the United States geological survey, says that he had a man 24 years of age in his employ at one time, who stated that he had never slept in an ordinary bed in his life, having been kept continually on the move in this fashion.

One-seventh of all the deaths in the world are said to be caused by tuberculosis, and in some places it is practically epidemic. The city of San Francisco has instituted a quarantine against consumptives. This disease is more common than any other in the tropics.

Brain Food-Nonsense.
 Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. C. Green's reliable remedies at G. B. Cummings'.
