HEAT STOPS WATCHES.

A Dealer Reports That High Temperature Brings Epidemic of Broken Main Springs.

"This weather is hot enough to stop a clock," growled the fat man, as he got in range with the electric fan, says the Philadelphia Record. "It is, and it does," replied the jewelry store salesman, who was his vis-a-vis at lunch. "It stops watches, too."

"I haven't worn my watch for a week, so you can't prove it by me," said the fat man. "When I discard my vest I discard my watch. It's lying in my bureau drawer, and it hasn't been going for a week."

"I don't mean that," said the jewelry store clerk. "I honestly mean that excessively hot weather such as this stops watches that are kept wound up and are supposed to be in good running order. During the last three days at least 50 people have brought their watches into our store because they have stopped. In nearly every instance it was found that the mainspring was broken. The head of our watch department told me this morning that it was always so when the temperature got up around the hundred mark and stayed there for several days. Only he said he had never known so many instances of it as at the present time."

Jack Tar is Averse to Bathtubs.

The days of the old forecastle, hung away in the dark hold under the forward mast, are gone forever, no matter what flag the vessel may carry. The forecastle on new steel ships is in a deckhouse, well forward. On American ships it is ventilated like the skipper's cabin in the stern of the ship, has a skylight and apparatus for heating. The men used to eat with their plates on their knees; now they have a mess table with racks to hold the dishes in place in rough weather. Tanks on top of the house supply running water, and the reason modern forecastles do not have bathtubs is that the sailors would rather take their baths on deck by throwing cold water over one another.

A certain young woman who recently made a financial hit by producing a popular novel was asked what she intended to do with the money paid by her publisher. "I don't know just what I shall do with all of it," was her reply, "but the day I received my first check I went downtown and bought two dozen shirt waists."

How to Save Money

L. Goldstein, Manufacturer of Picture Frames and dealer in Looking Glasses, Glass, Mats, Picture Frames, Mouldings, Perforated Chair Seats, etc. I wish to call your attention to the fact that I am now ready to frame pictures of any size and quality of mouldings desired. I have purchased a large stock of the latest styles of mouldings for cash and am able to frame pictures cheaper than any place in the city. I also regild frames, recover and repair Umbrellas, broken Glass and Chisaware, etc. It will pay you to call and investigate my stock and work and save your railroad fare elsewhere and half of your money.

To run a newspaper all a fellow has to do is to be able to write poems, discuss the tariff and money questions, umpire a baseball game, report a wedding, saw wood, beat a lawyer, describe a fire so that the readers will shed their wraps, make a dollar do the work of ten, shine at a soiree, address horticultural societies, measure calico, abuse the liquor habit, test whisky, subscribe to charity, go without meals, attack free silver, defend bimetalism, sneer at snobbery, invent advertisements, overlook scandal, praise babies, fling pumpkin raisers, minister to the afflicted, heal the disgruntled, fight to a finish, publish a doctor's resolutions denouncing a lawyer, set type, mold opinions, sweep the office, speak at prayer meetings and stand in with everybody and everything.

Says an exchange: "Noah was one of the earliest advertisers. He advertised that he would sail on a certain date. Those who did not believe in advertising failed to get tickets and were left in the wet during the forty days' rain without umbrellas or bathing suits. As most of them could not swim they took to trees and became monkeys."
