LAKE FOREST, HIGHWOOD, FORT SHERIDAN, HIGHLAND PARK, RAVINIA, GLENCOE, WINNETKA, LAKESIDE VOL XI FRIDAY, JANUARY 3, 1902 NO. 6

A twenty-foot addition is being made to the east end of the Basye livery barn to accommodate Ben Freberg's growing business. That starts Ben out on a happy new year. Thomas M. Dooley looks very smiling and happy at his desk, after the holidays. Another case of a man being happy, though married. Congratulations, Tom.

The city council meets next Tuesday for business, and when that is done they will all go home and no stopping for a visit at a "blind pig" on the way. Our Baptist brethren are filled with sorrow, and with good reason. Their new pastor, Rev. Edward Seldon, whom they had expected to welcome here today, is prostrated in his bed at his home in Emporia, Kas., and the people here have to take such preaching as they can get.

Mrs. Strock, the dressmaker, wishes to announce to her friends and patrons that she will sew at private residences, or take work to her own home, 221 Park avenue. J. J. Brand entertained a few friends at dinner on New Year's day at his home on Second street.

WANTED—Cotton rags for washing presses. Will pay 2 1/2 cents per pound. Apply at NEWS-LETTER office.

Rev. G. G. Schmid has been quite sick and was not able to attend to his pastoral duties at the Ebenezer church last Sabbath. In the evening Rev. A. A. Pfanstiel occupied the pulpit.

Mrs. Bond's body, whose death was chronicled last week, was taken east for burial with her kindred.

This is the season of calendars, but the supply is very limited. A few more would be thankfully received.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Cummings, wife of our veteran dealer in pills, plasters and lamp wicks, finds the climate of Arizona, where she is wintering with her sister, highly favorable to her health.

The North American Union will give a masquerade ball at Goldberg's opera house, Thursday evening, January 23. They have the reputation of furnishing a grand time to all.

The Ossoli club commenced the New Year with an exceptionally interesting afternoon. A paper, "The Decadence of Letter Writing," was read by Mrs. Q. V. S. Ward, of Chicago. Mr. Alfred S. Ely, of Chicago sang five baritone solos; "My Love Nell," old Irish; "Two Falstaff Songs," Verdi-Fisher, "King Duncan's Daughter" Aletsen, "Love the Peddler," Germain. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. M. S. Marsh, and Mrs. A. R. Warren.

Miss Eva Dorsey returned from her visit in Milwaukee, Monday night.

Mr. Will Kuist and daughters came up from Rogers Park, Wednesday, to spend the day with his parents.

Earl Purdy's skating rink for the common people will be on Lincoln avenue, a block or two east of the school house, near Mary's in the Woods. It will be large and open to all who don't wear silk Sox.

There has been a change of working force at the Northwest depot. Mr. Kinkaid, the old time operator has been transferred to the office of the Postal Telegraph Co. in Chicago. The present force is as follows: J. H. Cerps, agent; Joseph N. Booth, night operator; Propst, day operator; Oliver Sullivan, baggage master; and Joseph Mr. Propst has a wife and the others we know not.

There was a euchre party one night last week at Edward J. Nolan's. They had about nine tables were in use and prizes were won by Mrs. Louise Wycoff and Herbert Huffer, while the boobies were carried off in triumph by Mrs. James Miss Kelley. Something happened there but it has gone over our paper.

We are glad to know that the First National Bank, of Chicago, made a net profit of 22 per cent last year, for that insures our neighbors, Messrs. Boulton, Street and others, a continuance of their jobs. Our "First National" will have to look out or its Chicago neighbor will overtake it in the race for business.

John Z. White speaks at the Woman's Club Tuesday, January 7 on "Single Tax." German men are especially invited to attend.

Miss Ida Lentz, (seamstress) of Highland Park, she is now prepared to go out, or take in sewing at her home on St. Johns avenue. Telephone No. 393.

Miss Eva Dorsey left today for Mason City, Ill., to visit with her brother, Prof. A. L. Dorsey.

Truman Feliller was here from Peoria over Christmas. "Whisky City" is a big town. They paid Uncle Sam several million dollars revenue tax on the whisky there last year. They expect a population of 100,000 this year.

The second course of lectures by Prof. Edwin E. Sparks, of the Chicago University, will be given in the Baptist church, one evening, commencing January 3. The title of the course is "The Men Who Made Our Nation." Tickets may be had from members of the club.

Fire insurance placed by W. E. Brand for the through lightning Milwaukee express on the Northwestern stops here now at 9:07 a. m. for all the aristocratic people of this city who have missed the earlier trains. It stops only once, at Evanston, after leaving the Park and makes Chicago at 9:45, making the run from here thirty-nine minutes. We now have twenty trains daily to Chicago.

Prof. Joseph McFarland, the eminent young bacteriologist, of Philadelphia, spent New Year's with his cousin, Fred Porter Luther at Ravinook. He owns a poultry farm in New Jersey, with two hundred hens at present, and with incubators he expects to raise ten thousand to twenty thousand chickens for the markets. He has four incubators of two hundred and eighty eggs capacity each.

The Misses Pauline and Carrie Davis came down from Milwaukee Monday to spend New Year's with their cousin A. E. Dorsey and other friends.

We beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of the old time Springfield, (Mass.) Republican, calendar. In size, shape and make up it is exactly the same as it was five and thirty years ago when we had our first one. It hangs by our 'phone, and is just as good a calendar as the Republican is a paper, and there is no better daily or weekly in this broad land. It is sound, honest and fearless, with lots of brains in its capacious head.

A man and his wife, friends of ours, went to Bloomington for New Year's. On the journey they felt hungry and went into the dining car for supplies. They had a New Year's bill of fare at $1.00 per meal, and wishing to get the worth of their money, they took it through in order as the New Hampshire school ma'am read Webster's Unabridged. Arriving in Bloomington they could eat little of the parental turkey, etcetera, and complain of having "no appetite" since their return.

Miss Ellis, of Chicago, who has spent the last two months in Lake Geneva, is here visiting at the home of her nephew, A. E. Dorsey.

Five o'clock vesper services will be held in the Presbyterian church next Sunday. An especially interesting program has been prepared. All are welcome.

A poetical exchange gets off the following: An humble boy with a shining pail, went slowly down the sunny vale, to where the cow with a brindle tail, on the alfalfa did regale. A bumble bee did gaily sail over the soft and shady vale, to where the boy with the shining pail, was milking the cow with the brindle tail. The bee lit on the cow's left ear, her feet flew through the atmosphere, and through the leaves of a cottonwood tree, the boy soared to eternity.

Mr. Will Tillman and family spent New Years at the home of Richard Tillman.

Miss Rose Violet Gartner, of St. Charles, Ill., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. John S. Reesman, this week.

Allie Streiber entertained the young lady members of the graduation class at her home Thursday evening.

UNITED EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

On New Year's eve the Sunday school of the United Evangelical church held their annual meeting and election of officers. The secretary and treasurer gave very encouraging reports. The Sunday school prospered numerically and financially. Before the election of officers Mr. A. Noerenberg, who has faithfully served as superintendent during the past year, requested to be allowed to retire from that position. B. O. Fritsch was elected in his stead; C. A. Kuist was elected assistant superintendent; Frank Fritsch secretary; Paul Gieser, treasurer. Two librarians were elected.

The Christian Endeavor then had an interesting missionary program. This was followed by a short address by the pastor and devotional exercises. About fifty persons remained for the midnight hour, when everybody, without an exception, shook hands with everybody else and greeted each other with a "Happy New Year" wish.

On Sunday evening at 6:30 the installation of the officers of the Christian Endeavor Society of the United Evangelical church will take place. The presentation of a C. E. badge to all active members will be next in order, with appropriate remarks by the pastor.

On New Year's day Samuel H. Fritsch was elected Sunday school superintendent of the United Evangelical church at Deerfield; James H. Fritsch, assistant; Miss Frances Biederstett, secretary; Miss Julia Zahn, treasurer.

At the annual meeting of the congregation of the United Evangelical church at Deerfield it was decided to have preaching in the English language every alternate Sunday morning.

A SAD AFFAIR.

The following is part of a letter written by one of the boys of Company E, 5th U. S. Infantry, November 11, 1901, to the Rev. A. Haefele: "Some of the sad news I relate will probably interest someone in your beautiful little city—I will relate the facts as they occurred.

"We are still in San Gabriel, but under orders to move. Sergeant Sullivan, who is in command here, asked for five men to accompany him to the mountains on a search for trails. Myself, Privates Helm, Willard, Fields and Davis volunteered to go. After a walk of fifteen miles we reached an elevation of about 3,500 feet above sea level and partook of our limited rations. We rested one hour and then resumed our march for about three miles, when we came to a swift-flowing stream. Following this for about three-quarters of a mile we came upon one of the most beautiful sights I ever saw. I believe we were on the highest peak of the locality. To the east were the rolling mountains with tropical foliage, to the west the broad waters of the China Sea, while in front and 1,500 feet below us was a precipice over which flowed the waters of the stream. Finding an old trail which led down into the canon below we descended. We had guessed rightly when we supposed this stream to be but a branch of the San Gabriel River and would lead to the quarters at this place. All the afternoon we followed the canon and the stream, climbing over large boulders until we were nearly exhausted. Just as it began to grow dusk we came upon a pool of water which left us no alternative but to swim across. It was about seventy-five yards wide. Three of the men, with their rifles slung across their shoulders and a hundred rounds of ammunition in their belts, plunged in and reached the other side safely. These were Sergeant Sullivan, Privates Fields and Willard. Private Helm next plunged in and swam half way across when he gave an awful scream and disappeared from sight and was seen no more. My God, can I ever forget it? Knowing that Davis and I must swim across, we were almost unnerved by this sad accident. Quickly I slipped my blue overshirt and leggins, slung my rifle over my back and plunged in, Davis following my example. We reached the other side safely, but in an exhausted condition. Beside that treacherous water and in that gloomy canon we watched all night and prayed for the soul that had so suddenly gone to its Maker. It was an awful night we spent. We were wet and cold and our teeth fairly chattered. We waited until morning, but a diligent search revealed no trace of the missing comrade.

"I wish very much that some of the friends I learned to know at Highland Park would write now and then. I shall gladly answer all letters received. L. H. HENTZ, Co. E, 5th U. S. Infantry, Manila, Luzon Island, P. I.
