Brain-Food Nonsense.
Another ridiculous food tad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at G. B. Cummings'. FRIDAY, FEB. 7, 1902.

The first few days of this week emphasized a most forcible manner that old question of the psalmist, "Who can stand before his cold?" God can set the inhabitants of half a continent shivering with cold just by a change in the direction of the wind.

Every taxpayer in this and the west township should not forget that the election of trustees for township schools occurs on the second Saturday in April of each and every year, which this year will mean April 12, and members of the board of education for District No. 1, East Deerfield, will come on the third Saturday in April, the 19th.

The bible book store in Evans-ton reports an immense trade since Prof. Pearson spread his opinions about the submarine experience of Jonah and some other matters mentioned in the sacred narrative. In some respects it looks like a collusion between the learned professor and the bible society officials.

An intelligent reader asked, after a careful and satisfied perusal of last week's NEWS-LETTER, who wrote the editorial paragraph about the high school consuming lots of hard coal and hard cash, and getting on your big Putnam boots to kick. He was assured that the editor did it, and was further informed that the NEWS-LETTER did not, like King George III., have to hire Hessians or other mercenaries to do our work.

The people in Waukegan are clamoring for a new high school building. With two or three times as many pupils as we have, they have but a tithe of the room we have for our one hundred or less, and it costs but a fraction to run theirs, compared with the expense of ours. Our people are not opposed to a high school, but they are opposed to one run in an extravagant manner, the way ours is conducted.

A patron says it is too bad that this city has no cemetery, and wants us to advocate the city's taking over the old St. Mary's little plot, purchase the Flint property adjoining it, etc., and then have a first-class cemetery. Not much, you please. We inadvertently did that mildly once, and inside of twenty-four hours had such a hornet's nest about our ears as we wish not to encounter again.

During his discourse Sunday evening, Rev. Selden told his audience it was a "good fortune to be born in England," and quoted with rare oppositeness Scott's lines on the man without love of his native land. He then outlined his notions of patriotism in and for the land of one's adoption. It seemed pretty clear that he will pass muster as an Americanized Englishman.

The superintendent of schools in Adams, Mass., has a new wrinkle in school matters: Two blasts, immediately repeated, at 7:45 a. m., no session of the high school; the same at 8:15 a. m., no session in grades 1, 2, 3 and 4; six blasts at 8:15 a. m., no session in all grades below the high school; the same at 11:30 a. m. or 12:45 p. m., no afternoon session. This is a hint for our educators if they want to get up something new and with the old Puritan trade mark on it. Evidently they are not scared by a "siren" whistle if they can stand six sharp blasts for school not to keep.

READ THIS!

Section 4 of Article VIII. of the constitution of Illinois, adopted in convention May 13, 1870, ratified by the people July 2, 1870, and in force August 8, 1870, reads as follows:

"No teacher, state, county, township or district school officer shall be interested in the sale, proceeds or profits of any book, apparatus or furniture used or to be used in any school in this state, with which such officer or teacher may be connected."

The statute, approved and in force May 21, 1880, providing a penalty for violating the above provisions reads as follows:

"Upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five dollars ($25), nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), and may be imprisoned in the county jail not less than one (1) month, nor more than twelve (12) months, at the discretion of the court."

That shows that the wise men of this commonwealth did not intend to have our teachers, school trustees, etc., dabble in selling lead pencils, steel pens, crayons, etc. If any of the above named classes of persons have been violating this supreme law of this state, they had better desist at once.

ILLINOIS' NEEDS.

According to the New York World Almanac for 1902, Illinois has some twenty-five colleges, seminaries and universities, all the way down from the millionaire University of Chicago to a little "two and six pence" one-horse affair down in Egypt. The Methodists are credited with three, the Baptists, Congregationalists and Presbyterians the same, the Evangelicals several.

Illinois needs several things, for instance a good, up-to-date, full grown, twentieth century governor, and some other things of the same general character, but she don't need any more colleges or universities and will not for a full hundred years.
