ROSS FLETCHER.

After one year's experience in the Cuban war and three years in the army in the Philippines, Roscoe Conkling, more familiarly known as "Ross," Fletcher received his honorable discharge Friday and came home Tuesday. Like the enterprising young man that he is, he brought a bride with him. She was Miss Pansy Reiter, daughter of a Detroit merchant.

Ross was in Company C of the 14th Infantry, which has been sta-miles out from Detroit.
