

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Robin Redbreast has made his appearance.

The Harrie L. Re Qua house has been rented to Mr. Gerry, of Chicago.

Mrs. Miller will be one of the speakers at the B. Y. P. U., Sunday evening.

The Episcopalians have a rehearsal of "The Crucifixion" this (Friday) evening.

The Baptists give a "peanut" social in the church parlors this evening.

Deputy Sheriff Brown, of Waukegan, called on Postmaster Fletcher, Tuesday.

P. A. Montgomery and family have returned to their summer residence in the Park.

Don't forget that next Sunday is Easter, and, above all, be sure of that new Easter bonnet.

Mrs. Price, a sister of Mrs. A. W. Fletcher, after a visit here left for her California home Wednesday evening.

Charles Quinlan, of Evanston, came up here the other day to learn how to run a city successfully and smoothly.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ward have moved to Chicago. He has been with the electric light company for Superintendent Charles H. Warren will have a special Easter service for the Baptist Sabbath school Sunday noon.

The Highland Park NEWS-LETTER has changed from a five to a four column quarto, and is furnishing all home print.—Lake Forester.

The Steer cottage is not rented, as was stated last week, the Carvers having taken one of those two cottages down in the woods, on Forest avenue.

We want to congratulate the F. H. Babcock family. They have moved into and are happily settled in their own beautiful home, the Leach house, on Laurel avenue.

The family of Truman F. Miller, after a residence of three years in the John F. Rice house, go over into the second floor flat of the Hill house on Forest avenue near the Sheridan Road.

Have you seen the very beautiful Cudaby calendars which F. M. Evans is giving to those who purchase the Cudaby extract at his store. It is a beautiful work of art almost as good as the extract.

John Cote, the train news man, lost his little 2-year-old child by death Saturday morning from pneumonia. The funeral was Monday. They have the sympathy of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wood, the chief druggist over at the Elgin retreat, spent Tuesday evening in this city. Mrs. Wood was on her way to Shelbyville, Ind., to visit her parents.

The Tuttle house on Hazel and Prospect avenues has been finished. Mr. Ed Wendling has finished one of his finest jobs of interior decorating and painting, and the house will be ready for occupancy by the first.

Most of the building going on is near the city building corner. There is the Glader house nearly finished, a nice two-story house; Mrs. Hammond's two cottages and the Wendling house just across the street. North of the city building is a cellar waiting for a house.

The weekly newspaper is like a bill of fare—a person seldom likes all it contains. The proper way to read it is to select what you like and leave what you dislike for those who have different tastes. Don't find fault with the menu because you cannot swallow the whole shooting-match.

Fred P. Luther put in most of the week visiting his mother in St. Paul, her old home in the shire of McLean county, the county, by the way, whose corn crop exceeds that of all New England put together by over 3,000,000 bushels.

The employes of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric railway will give their first annual ball at Fort Sheridan Park pavilion Easter Monday evening. The proceeds are for the club's new gymnasium at the power house. The sale of tickets has been very large and the biggest assemblage of people ever in the park is expected.

J. A. Blomdahl, the Park's up-to-date shoe dealer, has one of the finest display windows this week ever shown here. Mr. Blomdahl always keeps his store and windows in a neat and tasty style, but he has excelled himself this time. With a new line of shoes always being added to keep up with the styles, he has built up a trade of which he can be proud, and Mr. Blomdahl does not forget, in his prosperity, that the home paper helped to call the people's attention to his reliable way of doing business, thereby helping to make him prosperous.

W. O. Hipwell has added a second story to the annex to his home on Central avenue. We presume it is for a "den" for himself, where he can retire and smoke his favorite Havanas, read his paper and concoct plans for the improvement of the public library.

Chief Clerk King, at the postoffice, was born near Milverton, Somersetshire, England, and had a brother who would shoulder a five-bushel sack of wheat and walk off with it.

He says an old neighbor of his over there, John Gamlin, father of Mrs. L. J. Rice, used to win the prizes at plowing matches for his straight and neat furrows.

Ben Freberg intends to have the best livery outfit in this town this season. He has bought three elegant carriages from the Studebakers, as follows: One half platform extension top carriage, one canopy surrey, and one runabout, all trimmed in whipcord, and with the best rubber tires. With a stable of good horses and reasonable rates, Mr. Freberg should be entitled to his share of the public patronage.

Of course the old "up and at 'em" Fourth ward will re-elect Fred Greenslade. The council has no more valuable member than Mr. Greenslade, and there are such men as Messrs. Moses, Everett, Roberts, et al. in it. He has every feature of the city's work and interests at his finger ends, and works for the city's good. He is not looking after some "rake-off for himself. Every man suspected of that is weeded out. The city cannot afford to do without Mr. Greenslade.

RESOLUTION.

The following resolution was introduced and adopted at the last meeting of the town board by unanimous vote. It was offered by Judge Charles H. Baker:

WHEREAS, The books of George Hessler, treasurer of the highway commissioners of the town of Deerfield, show that he has advanced for the use of the town the sum of $724.01 from his own personal funds, to the great relief of the people of the town; therefore, we, the town board, in session assembled, hereby unanimously express our appreciation of his generous act, and request the local press to extend to him the same expression in its columns.

MR. MOSES' ARREST.

The chief topic on the streets Thursday morning was the arrest, imprisonment and release of our merchant, Alfred Moses, proprietor of the big Northwestern store, by the Highwood authorities, Wednesday afternoon.

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Moses was informed that the Highwood authorities had torn up the sidewalk in front of his lot in that village, west of the Highwood school house.

Lawrence Oleson, and found the walk torn up. While looking it over and wondering what it meant, for he had received no notice that the walk was out of repair, he saw Mayor Hogan and Marshal Moore a little way off and beckoned them to come over and explain matters. When they came he asked Mayor Hogan why the walk had been torn up and why he had not been notified if it needed repairs. Hogan replied that notice had been given in the paper, and also that he did not know as they were obliged to notify him, using some oaths and calling Mr. Moses some disreputable names. This fired up Mr. Moses and he replied in somewhat similar terms, at which Hogan struck him in the head and kicked him. Of course this angered Mr. Moses, and he tried to defend himself, when Hogan ordered the marshal to arrest him, and took his revolver, which he had forgotten to leave in the store, and the loose change in his pocket. Evidently they thought Mr. Moses was going to use his pistol. After some scuffling, with the aid of Village Clerk Brady, Mr. Moses was thrown into his grocery wagon, and then Mr. Oleson was also arrested and both taken to the village jail and Mr. Moses locked in a cell, though Mr. Oleson was not locked up. Mr. Moses asked permission to send for his father to bail him out, and received some coarse and evasive replies. But someone telephoned his father, who went up, and Hogan ordered both men released without any charge being entered against them or bail required.

Moses and Oleson have begun suit in Waukegan for $20,000 damages for false imprisonment.

We will be thankful for any item of local news or matter of public interest. Telephone No. 92 or 773

We sat at the table together,
She cast a shy glance over at me,
She certainly looked like an angel,
Oh, Charley! Please order me Rocky Mountain Tea.
