He expects to sail for England, June 4th, and perhaps he will pick up a few judicial points during his trip.

Master Irving Brand, youngest son of George Brand, met with quite a serious and painful accident last Monday evening while playing hide-and-seek with some little playmates. He was running to hide and ran into a wire that had a hook on it, striking him around the neck, and almost severing his jugular vein. A physician was called and the wound was dressed. It required seven stitches to close the laceration. He is doing nicely, but it will be some time before he will join in another game of hide-and-seek.

The owner of the realty on Lincoln avenue, in Wren's addition, which certain parties, unknown to said owner, did surreptitiously appropriate and use as a skating pond last winter, would feel under "renewed obligations to said unknown parties if they would (as soon as convenient to them, of course) restore the said realty to its former normal condition or grade the same so it will be suitable for a tennis court, as the owner is not disposed to have the property lie idle or unproductive all summer and fall.

It is reported that the military reservation at Fort Sheridan is to be enlarged. As we understand it, the Prall addition from the electric power house north to the Fort Sheridan depot, up to the Northwestern tracks, is to be secured, and then that large block directly south of the cavalry stables down to Fort Sheridan Park is to be secured also. There are a large number of houses, shops, etc., on these pieces of land and the owners will be paid handsome prices, as our Uncle Sam is rich and generous. When this is done and new quarters built, the number of men stationed at the Fort will be largely increased.

The first guest at the Moraine this year came on Monday, May 19th, to make Highland Park his permanent home, and has opened in the beautiful hotel. The person referred to is Dr. E. H. Pomeroy, for twenty-seven years in Calumet, Mich., where he had charge of the medical and surgical service of the great Calumet and Hecla Mining Company, and was chief of staff at the dispensary and hospital maintained for its employes and their families by that wonderful corporation. Dr. Pomeroy speaks very entertainingly of the great mine, not only of its great wealth in copper, but of its liberality and greatness of consideration towards all its employes. Aside from the large and beautiful dispensary and the perfectly equipped hospital, attended by fourteen regular physicians, engaged exclusively by the company, this great corporation maintains schools—high schools, common schools, manual training schools—a forty thousand volume library, twenty-five free public baths, reading rooms, club rooms, game grounds, etc., and contributes liberally to each of the many churches. Of these, owing to the thirty different nationalities comprising the population of Calumet, there are thirty-seven separate churches in Calumet, although five are Roman Catholic and twelve are Lutheran.
