

GLENCOE.

Mrs. C. H. Howard has returned from the east.

Skokie, Saturday, July 5, 2 p. m., Hoyt cup. Qualifying rounds, eighteen holes; sixteen to qualify.

Mr and Mrs. S. H. Cox will spend the week in Dixon, Ill., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Plummer.

At Skokie on the Fourth of July, there will be, at 9:30 a. m., a mixed foursome handicap, eighteen holes; prizes. At 2 p. m., a members' handicap.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Day have rented their home for the season and are spending the summer months in the vicinity of her old home in the east.

The Field Day exercises of the Glencoe school, owing to the bad weather last Saturday, were postponed until the Fourth of July, when they will take place at the park as originally planned.

The women's schedule at Skokie for the week is, Monday, July 7, 1:30 p. m., qualifying round, handicap tournament, eighteen holes. First eight to qualify for prize given by Mr. Jas. L. Houghtaling, second eight to qualify for prize given by Miss Landon.

The absorbing topic of interest at Glencoe just now is the Gad's Hill city encampment. On Saturday next the first installment of one hundred little boys and girls from the city will strike stakes and take possession. They will find a warm welcome awaiting them. The ladies of Glencoe will provide for the first week's comfort and pleasure. The committee, consisting of Mrs. Mrs. MacLeich, chairman, and Meses. Copeland, Shaw, S. Newhall and Kletzing, have raised two hundred dollars. The younger girls have manifested their interest in a helpful, practical way, the committee of which Miss Jessie Schnur is chairman, will each day send two young ladies to the encampment who will aid in looking after the children and entertaining them. These young ladies will go in the early morning and stay until after dinner, so as to assist in serving the children at table—quite the most important item of the day to these small guests. Rev. Moore, rector of the Episcopal church, at Winnetka, will conduct the services at 4 o'clock Sunday.

AN AERONAUT WHO KNITS.

M. Santos-Dumont Gets Much-Needed Relaxation in the Feminine Occupation.

Next to the flying through space in his flying machine M. Santos-Dumont enjoys knitting, making embroidery, and tapestry, reports the New York World.

M. Santos, as he prefers to be called, says it is a relaxation, and adds that he likes it. There are many things of his making in his elegant apartments at the Elysee palace hotel in Paris—chair seats worked in cross stitch, embroidered tray cloths, tea coverings and cushions, and ever so many other articles. They show that he possesses a high degree of skill and delicate appreciation of the artistic in design and color effects.

But when M. Santos really wants to enjoy himself in his home he knits. When he is studying a knotty problem in connection with his airship he knits, clicking the flying needles in true German fashion and scarcely ever glancing at them.

His apartments are in keeping with his home occupations. The drawing room is paneled in white and gold. No one would dream of using the delicate chairs with their dainty brocade coverings, and it is difficult to escape the many tables laden with bric-a-brac.

In the bedroom the walls are covered with pale blue silk, over which white dotted net is draped. The curtains of the window and of the canopied bed are held back with huge bows of blue satin ribbon.

The Remarkable Problem That Has Come Before Congress for Settlement.

A claim has been put in congress and referred to a senate committee which has already been the subject of some very interesting decisions in regard to the true nature of an "act of Providence."

Star. The claim is for the loss or damage of two trunks belonging to an army surgeon on the occasion of the great storm at Galveston, Tex., September 8, 1900. The chief quartermaster at San Antonio refused to order a board of survey on the case, as he said the storm was an act of Providence, for which the carrier could not be held responsible. The claimant took exception to this statement.

"It is an article of faith," he said, "with all good Christians, that the ways of Providence are inscrutable and past finding out."

"This last proposition being accepted as a fact by all Christians, I have the honor to maintain that if the storm of September 8, 1900, had been an act of Providence it could not have been foretold by man, whereas, as a matter of fact, it was predicted by the United States weather bureau, and the people of Galveston were warned of the approach and its expected visitance."

In order to more firmly establish his claim that the storm at Galveston was not an act of Providence, the claimant has submitted the full report of the weather bureau descriptive of the catastrophe.
