

RAVINIA.

Mrs. P. M. Geherty has quite recovered from her recent illness.

James Gentry has assumed complete control of the Ravinia stock farm.

Miss Barbara Durest, of Evanston, spent several days last week with Mrs. Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Gaylord, of Chicago, will spend several weeks at the home of Mrs. E. Grant.

Mrs. Joseph H. Stipe and mother have returned from a delightful visit of a month at Adams, Minn.

Mrs. O. D. Leonard's pet cat, "Pink Eyes," is pronounced by connoisseurs to be a very rare and handsome specimen.

Mrs. Snyder, of Adams, Minn., who has been the guest of Mrs. James Gentry, is now the guest of Mrs. Kline in Highland Park.

A double birthday party took place Monday at the residence of Mrs. Grant, in honor of Miss H. M. Smith and Miss Breakwell, of Highwood.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. McMullen entertained a number of Chicago friends one evening last week at dinner, at "Coedmore." Mrs. Ward, of London, England, was the guest of honor.

Ralph Grant and wife and child, of New Hampton, Iowa, are visiting Mrs. E. Grant. Mr. Grant, who intends to locate permanently in Ravinia, will be a guest at his mother's until he can find a suitable residence.

Mrs. F. R. McMullen's saddle horse, "Harry," took first prize in the gaited class at the Lake Forest horse show. He carried off two prizes at the same show last year, and two at the Chicago horse show last autumn.

Mrs. A. Rosing entertained this past week at her own home, fifteen little children between the ages of 12 and 14 years. These children, who are mostly cash girls from the department stores or factory hands, come from the tenement district around 14th place and Halsted street, where the Henry Booth Settlement house is situated. This settlement is supported by the Ethical Culture Society, of which William Salter is leader, and of which society Mrs. Rosing is a member.

When approached upon the subject of her beautiful philanthropy, Mrs. Rosing, a woman of charming personality and extreme modesty of manner, almost resented the intrusion, saying, "Everybody does something for others, and this is my small way of trying to make someone a little happier. If I succeed in making just one person happy, I feel I am repaid." Last year Mrs. Rosing entertained fifteen old ladies; this year she has chosen the children. Her spacious barn, delightfully airy and clean, is fitted with cots and beds, where these little visitors retire to "enjoy tired nature's sweet restorer" at the close of a happy, busy day. Were it a house party from her own circle of friends Mrs. Rosing could not possibly plan more carefully for their pleasure than she has for these little tenement guests. And, mind you, this is an individual charity, every expense, even to railroad transportation, is defrayed by this noble lady herself. The day of their arrival, July 5, Mrs. Rosing gave them a delightful picnic in the woods. Monday there was a hay-rack ride into the country and a cherry picking. Wednesday a musicale in the early part after which coffee and sandwiches, lemonade and cake, all in abundance, were served. Thursday a beach party. Bathing is a daily feature. Sunday there was a grand farewell picnic, for on Monday all, with one exception, a sick girl, returned to the city. Truly this old world grows less selfish.

An attractive place is the unoccupied picture house on Forest and Lake avenues, which was built by H. A. Tuttle, of Minneapolis, general manager and secretary of the western division of the Postal Telegraph Company. The interior arrangement is charming. It was built by the same contractor who is superintending the Moseley place.

Mrs. Edgar M. Snow and daughter, accompanied by Mrs. George A. Mason, will spend the month of August at Wentworth Hall, Jackson, White Mountains, N. H. Mr. Snow will meanwhile be in camp on the south shore of Lake Superior, near Grand Marais, Mich., fishing for brook trout.
