

RAVINIA.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Neist have "theirtwo little boys" from Chicago out speuding the summer with them again.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Winchester, of New York city, spent an evening last week with their grandmother Mrs. Winchester.

It is mainly through the kindness and courtesy of Levi M. Comstock that Ravinia is enjoying the privilege of Sunday services these days. Mr. Comstock has the grateful appreciation of all.

Mr. G. P. Rockwell who is in charge of the Moody Sunday School Fresh Air Home conducts services every Sunday at the Ravinia Church corner of Dean and Judson, Sabbath school at 3 p. m. and a regular song and preaching services at 7. 30 p. m. every Sunday. Preaching by C. E. Hauck of Chicago all are welcome.

On Sunday August 10 at 7. 30 p. m. there will be a special song sevice held in the Ravinia chruch. The girls chorus from the Chicago Avenue church will sing. An extremely beautiful program has been arranged and will include among other pieces the Holy City. Mr. Rockwell has had this chorus in training for two years and it is an inspiration to hear them. The chorus enjoys quite a reputation, having sung in the First Congregational church, Chicago, the Cuyler M. E. and has been in demand at many festivals and conventions. Remember, August 10, 7:30 p. m.

AIR HOME.

In this week's company there are eleven little girls, one is 14 years old, who have never before been out of the crowded city, or ever seen the country before.

A number of little tots were made, oh, so happy, the other day when the driver of Mr. Geherity's delivery wagon "picked them up" and gave them a jolly free ride.

The boys this week caught a string of 107 fish. They built a fire on the beach and enjoyed a lenten feast of a few, the rest were brought into camp for general use.

One evening last week Mrs. Grant and Miss Smith, in their usual quiet, generous way, surprised the children just at tea time with a treat, which was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Stipe and Mrs. Joseph Stipe very kindly sent over a number of lovely blooming plants, which the children at once planted. The bed, with its bit of bright color, is quite an attractive addition.

The field day exercises were held last Saturday afternoon, and included all kinds of races, jumping, ball throwing and athletic doings in general. Prizes were awarded, and the day passed off most happily.

Mr. Stipe has been very kind in allowing the children to go into the sheds at milking time, a process which seems to interest them tremendously. One little girl was heard to exclaim, "why I thought they made it (milk) by machinery," which reminds one of the little city girl who saw the cows chewing their cud and innocently asked the farmer if he had to buy gum for all his cows.

After all it is the little things of life that contribute most to the grand total of happiness. Mr.

kindly, cheery way with the children. Why, if he should forget his pleasant "good morning" and friendly wave of the hand to these little fresh air guests, we believe the day would be incomplete to them, for Mr. Beckwith has found the "snug corner" of all their little hearts.

The main object of the Moody Fresh Air Home is to give the little folks a good time, and they are having it surely. Sunday they had an interesting time at the Railroad Men's Home. J. J. Bellaire, the "one-fingered fireman," won their undying admiration by the display of his wonderful engines, which he "made run" for them. Herbert Edison, aged 4 years, was rewarded with a great big luscious peach for saying his a b c's, spelling his name and singing a song. Herbert would willingly go in forever and perform his little "stunt" if he were always sure of so sweet a reward.

Rev. M. Darling, with his wife, returned from Cape Ann this week, where he has been enjoying his vacation cod fishing, to officiate at the marriage of Miss Day to Mr. Muir.

When Cupid once invades a town the epidemic is pretty apt to spread. The next wedding of interest will probably occur in the early autumn, when Miss Olive Hankey and Rev. Branscombe, the Episcopal rector here, are to be married.

The Schweigert case came up Monday at 3 p. m. The accused was charged with the keeping of a disorderly house. O. R. Barnett acted as prosecuting attorney for the village. The jury went out at 1 o'clock and it was past midnight before a verdict was reached, the jury disagreeing; 7 were in favor of conviction and 5 for acquittal. The case was laid over until Tuesday when it will be called at 2 p. m.

All interest this week has been centered in the prettiest event of summer, the marriage of Miss Edith Day to William Muir, of Chicago, which took place Tuesday evening in the Congregational church. John Day, Jr., was groomsman and Messrs. J. Norris, Ralph Parsons, of Chicago, and Jack Fanning acted as ushers; Miss Agnes Day was the maid of honor and the Misses Ethel Perry and Agnes Newhall were the bridesmaids. The little flower girls—Helen Clementi, Beatrice King, Jean Hereford and Dorothy Brown—were in dainty pink organdie gowns, and carrying baskets filled with pink sweet peas, preceded the bride, strewing her pathway with the same pretty flowers. The bride's gown was a handsome creation of white crepe de chine, elaborately trimmed in old point lace. The maid of honor wore a handsome gown of Nile silk mulle; the maids were all daintily attired in gowns of white silk mulle. The church was most artistically decorated with a profusion of ferns, palms and the real old-fashioned garden flowers, which made a charming background for the bridal party. Rev. Mark Darling, who shortened his vacation in the east in order to be present at this occasion, performed the marriage ceremony.

Just before the bridal party entered the church Mrs. G. V. Clementi sang "Beloved It Is Morn." A pretty reception followed at the home of the bride. There a great many out-of-town friends present, and the gifts were most lavish and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Muir left the same evening for a three weeks' trip around the lakes, and on their return will be at home to their friends in Wilmette, where they have taken a house.

There is a pretty girl in an alpine hat.
A sweeter girl in a sailor brim,
But the handsomest girl you'll ever see,
Is the sensible girl who uses Rocky Mountain Tea.
