That Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hipwell have christened their new home, now nearing completion, "Blarney Cottage" is not without significance. When last abroad Mr. Hipwell visited Ireland and among other souvenirs brought home a piece of the real original "blarney stone." While of priceless value to Mr. Hipwell, it was regarded by the other members of the family as a sort of a white elephant. But now, at last, it serves a useful purpose and gives a romantic interest to this pretty new home, for this stone now forms the cornerstone of one of the pillars of the porch. Hence the name, "Blarney Cottage."
