HIGHWOOD.

All will be glad to learn that John Gustavson is doing well.

Miss Muller returned to Chicago this week to resume her school work.

Mrs. W. H. Detrick left Tuesday to visit her mother in Boise City, Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Cox, of Kenosha, were the guests of W. D. Cox and family Sunday.

Mrs. Edmund Fritsch, of Ravenswood, was the guest of Mrs. P. O. Fritsch Sunday.

A small fire started in O. N. Onsom's barn Monday forenoon and was extinguished by two boys before the fire department arrived.

At the meeting of the board of school directors held last Monday night it was decided to open the Highwood school Monday, September 15.

Miss Gavitt recently received a number of very fine uncut turquoise stones, which were sent to her by her father from Silver City, New Mexico.

Dr. C. E. Mandeville, of Evanston, the presiding elder of this district, presided at the quarterly conference held Wednesday evening at the Highwood M. E. church.

Mr. Cobb, who has a fine tenor voice, afforded music lovers a great deal of pleasure by his beautiful rendition of "The Holy City" in the Highwood M. E. church last Sunday evening.

Teddy, jr., did not come up to the small boys' expectations of what a president's son should be, in fact, Estaban Varaneas was greatly disappointed to find he looked and appeared much the same as any other ordinary boy.

A party of nine little girls, including Alma Kelley, Sigrid Johnson, Ivy Breakwell, Mabel Lee, Mannie Fagan, Mabel Garrity, Grace Murphy, Lillian Wahlman, and Kittie Brown, chaperoned by Miss Obee, enjoyed a picnic at Lincoln Park Saturday.

While weeding his garden one day last week Ernest S. Gail came across a curious gelatinous mass composed of eleven little white oval-shaped eggs, about the size of a marble. Upon opening one of the eggs Mrs. Gail discovered a little live snake, four inches long. Mr. Gail took some of the eggs to his Highwood office, where they excited considerable interest, the rest were replaced in the nest. About Thursday, seeing the eggs beginning to shrivel up, Mrs. Gail supposed they had been spoiled, but on Friday morning she was surprised to find the snakes very much alive with their heads peering out at her from the shells. The eggs in the office, which were given to Miss Nina Bell, did not hatch out until Sunday. They were a variety of the common garden snake.
