

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

The high school will enter on its fall term Wednesday, September 10.

Local news matter will be found on every page of this week's NEWS-LETTER.

The Luncheon Club will meet next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Paul Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dorsey spent Thursday at Libertyville enjoying the county fair.

The grammar school, with Mr. Smith as principal, opened most auspiciously Tuesday.

Mme de Mauraç's embroidery class will meet next Wednesday at the home of Mrs Ritter.

Mrs. Thomas Daggitt, Pen Yan, Mich., was the guest of Thomas Home and wife over Thursday.

J. Bellaire, "one-fingered fireman Jack," is attending the convention of the B. of L. F. at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Ed Warren and family have taken apartments at the Ingleside, where they will reside until the completion of their new home.

The stirring event of the week has been the county fair, numerous bus and carriage parties going over, Thursday being the banner day.

The new cement walks on Central avenue are a vast improvement. The walk in front of Mrs. Bock's store, in particular, has been built full width.

Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, of Evans-ton, accompanied by their guest, Mrs. Barton, of Southport, England, have been spending the week with the Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Home.

C. H. Peck and family, of Lincoln, Neb., are at the Ingleside. Mr. Peck is superintending a party which came out to survey the slough west of here, and is busily engaged in making maps and diagrams of all city.

Mrs. John A. Hamlin leaves for New York city today to attend the marriage of her son, Harry L. Hamlin, manager of the Grand opera house, to Miss Mary Paxton, daughter of Rev. John Randolph Paxton, of the New York Presbyterian church.

Frank C. Pritchard, member of the O. of R. C., died at the Railroad Men's Home Thursday at 10:50 a.m. His mother and two sisters from Chicago were with him when he passed away, and his wife is expected to arrive today from Omaha, Neb. The remains will be taken to Forreston, Ill., for interment.

Miss Nellie B. Suttenstein died of consumption August 27 at the residence of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Waterhouse. Miss Suttenstein was formerly of Jacksonville, Fla., but for the past ten years has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Waterhouse. The funeral services were held at the home Friday, August 29, at 1 p. m., Rev. A. A. Pfanstiehl officiating. The burial was at Rosehill.

A most interesting program has been arranged for the benefit concert to be given for Albert Larson, who is ill with typhoid fever in a hospital in the city, at Goldberg's opera house, Friday evening, September 12. In addition to a fine musical program, which will include Prior's stringed orchestra, a mandolin orchestra under the direction of George Colburn, a number of excellent vocal selections rendered by two artists from Chicago, Mrs. Simpson will give several selections in her inimitable dialect, and Charles Warren will give one of his wonderful sleight-of-hand performances and Mayor Evans has loaned his graphophone for the occasion. Everything points auspiciously to a successful evening, and we trust a large crowd will turn out. Tickets are only fifty cents, and can be procured at Mrs. Bohl's, Levin, the jeweler's, and at all the drug stores.

THE LAKE COUNTY FAIR.

The Lake County Fair, which closes today at Libertyville, has been a grand success this year in points of numbers, in its variety of attractions and financially. One of the most interesting features was the flock of eighty carrier pigeons introduced by the Waukegan Sun, and supplied by A. McArthur and Frank H. Miller, of Waukegan, who are in possession of the best trained carrier pigeons in the country.

Every afternoon at 3 o'clock the pigeons were released from their carrier baskets before the grandstand, and safely fastened to their tiny legs in aluminum holders were messages for Waukegan friends, which these wise little birds never failed to deliver at the office of the Waukegan Sun, and to return promptly for the postal duties of the following day.

The weather was perfect and, attracted by the delightful drive across country, and the interesting experience that awaited them at Libertyville, innumerable parties were made up from among the citizens of Highland Park and vicinity.

John H. Sheahen represented Highland Park at Libertyville this week in the official capacity of police. Both the events and attendance Thursday made it the red letter day of the fair, nearly 6,000 people being in attendance.
