GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

Miss Pratt, who has been seriously ill at Kalamazoo, Mich., returned to her work last Monday week, greatly improved in health.

At the last regular meeting of the school board, one of the important matters considered was the resignation of Messrs. Schumacher and Chandler, which were received at the last meeting in June, but not acted upon. The resignation of these members, having been formally accepted, the secretary of the board was instructed to post a call for a special election to be held in the grammar school building, Saturday, October 11, from 3 until 7 o'clock. The board authorized the employing of a cadet to assist in the work of the second and third grades.

The eighth grade was formally installed Monday in its new quarters in the high school building.

Miss Halsey, who has the Second grade, was hostess at a very pleasant dinner party in Evanston. Friday evening, given in honor of the grammar school faculty. Mr. Smith and all the teachers were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The board has planned a course of free lectures to be given from time to time in the high school building, and the first of the series will be given in the assembly hall Monday evening, October 13, at 8 o'clock, to which a cordial invitation is extended to all the citizens of Deerfield township, as it is the desire of the board to make it possible for the public to share the privileges of the building and its scientific equipment which has been so thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the pupils. The course opens most auspiciously, for the board has been very fortunate in securing Dr. George L. Cole, of Los Angeles, the eminent archaeologist, who will deliver an interesting lecture on "The Ancient Cliff Dwellers." Dr. Cole comes endorsed by both press and well-known educators and is considered one of the most popular lecturers on the platform.

The high school boasts a splendid football team this year, the members of which are sadly lamenting the lack of ground for athletic practice these fine autumn days.

The eighth grade, under the able management of Miss Westcott, is doing well both in shop and gymnasium work.

Under the direction of Rev. Wolcott and Miss Pardee, the school library, which has been newly catalogued according to the Dewey system, is being made of practical use

THE INGLESIDE HOTEL

With a change of management three years ago came a change of name, and the old Central House, for years a well known land-mark of Highland Park, became "The Ingleside." The good old Scottish ward, "Ingleside," is singularly significant and attractive these dull, gray, rainy days, with its pleasant suggestion of cheery, blazing logs in the great open fire place, for such is the meaning of Ingle, the fireside or chimney-nook.

Under the present management there has been a steady increase in patronage, and the past summer has proved a phenomenally good season in every way. The past year witnessed a new brick addition to the building, and a number of modern improvements and innovations.

The entire house has been newly papered and decorated, the rooms which are all steam-heated, are lighted with gas, and lavatories with running hot and cold water are provided in every part of the building. There are several suites with private bath in connection. The sanitation of the house throughout, is hygienically perfect, and the hotel, while it does not make any claim to the to students in more ways than one. Pupils are selected two each week, from the fourth year class and part of the third year class to act as librarians. At the end of the week the shelf catalogue is gone through carefully, and the librarians held responsible that every volume is in its place in the library. It is the desire of the management that every pupil that leaves the high school shall have a familiar knowledge of the most modern library system. The new lunch counter has been installed, and Mr. Hull, of the Columpretentious, boasts of all modern conveniences. It is the desire and special aim of the management to make the Ingleside a popular and comfortable family hotel.

Its central location especially adapts itself to the needs of this rushing age when time counts for so much. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Reesman and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Bannister are among the families who have engaged apartments at the Ingleside for the winter.

This promises to be a gala week-end at the Ingleside, for beginning today and for the three days following, the hotel will celebrate a genuine old-time harvest home festival. The rooms are to be suggestively decorated, and the real olden-time farm dinners, with their good, old-fashioned pumpkin pies — "like mother used to make"—and other equally palatable edibles that will be served each day, except Sunday, when an elaborate game dinner will be given, promises to constitute a popular feature of the festival.

It is also the purpose of the management to provide in every way for the pleasure of their guests during the winter season.

Bia Bakery, furnishes warm soups, coffee, chocolate, cocoa, buns, rolls, sandwiches, cakes, pies, crullers, doughnuts, etc.—an innovation that is very acceptable and much appreciated by the teachers and pupils.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Rev. J. B. Feeby, of Harvey, visited Highland Park, Tuesday.

Mrs. M. Levy, of Chicago, spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. A. A. Moses.

Wednesday witnessed the golfers once more out in full force at Exmoor.

Remember the "rummage sale." If you have anything to contribute send word to Mrs. Edward H. Brown, secretary of the Woman's Club.

Messrs. McQuiston and Frank B. Green left Monday, with a party of four friends from Chicago, on a little fishing trip of several days at White Lake.

James Bilharz entertained his sister, Miss Jane Bilharz, and her guest, Mrs. Johnson, of Boulder, Colo., at dinner at the Ingleside Tuesday evening.

We have concluded that Marshal Rudolph is a decidedly "numerous" person. Go where you will from Glencoe to Fort Sheridan and there you will find the marshal.

Remember the interesting lecture at the high school building, Monday evening, October 13, at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission fee and a most cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

The readers will find in the Glencoe column of this week's issue notice of a series of free entertainments to be given each week in the school house, and to which a cordial invitation is extended to all residents of the North Shore suburbs to any, or all, of these meetings.

Judge Hibbard received by mail Wednesday, from C.C. Cheney, late of this city, a leaf of tobacco grown on his plantation in Randolph, Va. The leaf is green, just cut, and measures a little over 28 inches in length and 16 in breadth. Everyone who is sued in the judge's court during this month can see it free of charge.

Quite an interesting assortment of articles is gradually accumulating for the approaching "rummage sale" to be held by the Woman's Club early in the autumn. Half the proceeds are to be given to the Highland Park Relief and Aid society for its winter work. If the present coal condition continues much longer the cold weather will bring untold suffering and want to many in our midst, making the demand on the Relief and Aid society unusually heavy. Anyone who has a contribution for this sale, whether an article of furniture, clothing, bric-a-brac, or what not, word may be sent to Mrs. Ed. H. Brown, secretary.
