

OBITUARY.

KATHERINE DENZEL GNAEDINGER

Mrs. Katherine Gnaedinger, who died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Herman Denzel, last Sunday morning, was born at Singen, Baden, in Germany, November 14, 1833. Mrs. Gnaedinger, after her marriage, came to America, and of late years has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Denzel. Although Mrs. Gnaedinger had been ailing for nine months, she was not confined to her bed until two weeks preceding her death, which occurred Sunday, October 26. The funeral services were held from St. Mary's church, of which the deceased was a member, Tuesday, October 28, at 9:30 a. m., Rev. Father Morrissey, with two assistants, officiating at the solemn requiem high mass. The pastor, in a short sermon, paid a beautiful tribute to the life and character of Mrs. Gnaedinger, whose good example made her a valued member, both in the parish and in the community. The interment was in the family lot at Rosehill. Mrs. Gnaedinger is survived by three sons and two daughters—Mrs. Herman Denzel, Mrs. Rosalie Bracher and Henry, Emil and Otto Gnaedinger, of Chicago.

INGLESIDE.

George S. Foote and S. F. Peterson, of Elgin, spent Sunday at the Ingleside.

Mrs. J. S. Reesman left Wednesday for a visit of two weeks with friends in Chicago.

George Varney, who has been enjoying a pleasant visit of several weeks in northern Michigan with his parents has returned to the Ingleside.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goodwin, of West Lebanon, Ind., were guests at the Ingleside from Saturday until Monday, while enjoying a brief visit with their son, who is attending the Northwestern Military Academy.

Among the arrivals of the week at the Ingleside were: Messrs Hugh M. Williams, Lucius M. Williams, L. E. Lanty, H. O. Turner, A. P. Titcomb, W. P. Kelly, W. D. Hess and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lewis, all of Chicago.

Dr. Frank M. Ingalls, accompanied by his aunt, Mrs. Ella Ingalls, left Tuesday night for the Pacific coast. Dr. Ingalls will return about December 1, but Mrs. Ingalls will remain in Los Angeles, the guest of her brother's family until after the Christmas holidays, when she will return to the Ingleside.

MILITARY ACADEMY.

A fine new bleacher has been erected on the campus during the past week.

The boys are still enjoying life in the mess tent, which is not half bad these fine autumn days. However, they will probably gather round the festive board in the new mess hall after next week.

Quite a treat was enjoyed by the English and Latin classes last Saturday evening, when, accompanied by their instructors, they went to Chicago and enjoyed Mansfield's presentation of Julius Caesar.

The Academy will be given over tonight entirely to Halloween doings. The evening's frolic will begin with a barbecue on the campus, and supper, the menu of which will be replete with pumpkin pies, etc. Jack o'lanterns will decorate the grounds. Following the barbecue a Halloween party will be given in the drill hall for the students, teachers and ladies. Prizes will be awarded to the wearers of the most attractive and most original costume.

The boys of the Northwestern Military Academy are making a proud record for their alma mater in the athletic field this autumn. The Evanston high school second team came out Saturday and played the second team of the Academy, the score being 39 to 0 in favor of the latter. The Academy field on Wednesday afternoon was again the scene of an interesting conflict when the team from the Lake View High school tried its prowess with the first team of the Academy, which resulted in still another triumph for the latter, the score being 36 to 5 in their favor.

A DELIGHTFUL BANQUET.

Last week, Thursday, the lecture room of the Presbyterian church was the scene of a delightful banquet at which sixty pastors and their wives, Sabbath school superintendents and their wives, and officers, teachers and workers of the Highland Park and Highwood churches sat in pleasant converse together. The tables were beautifully decorated and the menu was elaborate. Mr. F. D. Everett, the superintendent of the Presbyterian school, acted as toastmaster. He gave an address of welcome to the various workers and then called upon several persons to respond to toasts, each one being asked to give his or her impressions of the Lake county Sabbath school convention that had been held the week before at Grays Lake—a convention that was unique in the history of the county in its remarkable addresses and the marvelous manifestation of special interest. It was the testimony of all attending that they had never had such a spiritual uplift in any religious meeting; no excitement, but a deep, earnest, Christian spirit prevailing at all the sessions of the convention. Mr. Charles Warren was the first speaker called on, followed by the Rev. Mr. Sorg, who spoke on "House Department Work in the Sunday School." The Rev. Mr. Finkbiener then gave a blackboard talk on what was said by the state convention on "Primary and Junior Work in Sunday School." Miss Alice Davidson was called on to give the substance of an address given by Mrs. Lameraux, of Chicago, at the convention on "The Teacher's Greatest Need," followed by Mrs. F. D. Everett, who with blackboard illustration, gave an address on "Best Things in Sunday School Teaching." Mrs. William Noenberg then spoke on "The Benefits of the Home Department," and the Rev. Franstien closed this formal part of the program with a few remarks.

Miss Ruby Harrington rendered a most charming instrumental solo, and during the toasts she and Mr. Goodridge interspersed a duet that was most effective and pleasing.

At the informal social part of the evening a committee, consisting of one from each church, with Mr. H. S. Vail as chairman, was appointed to arrange for a systematic canvass of the town and Highwood to ascertain the religious status of the community.

This committee met last Sunday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Vail and appointed committees from each church to carry on the canvass. They will go out two by two, no two being from one church, and report at a meeting to be held on November 20. All creedal differences were laid aside, heart to heart, hand in hand, this large band of sixty or more Christian workers are going forth endeavoring to do good, particularly in gathering from the streets on the Sabbath day, children who should be trained in moral and christian culture. They certainly deserve credit and co-operation of the community. A monthly union meeting is to be held during the winter to talk over methods and work that will advance the cause of the Sunday schools in Highland Park and Highwood.

THE HIGHLAND PARK CLUB.

The deferred card party came off as scheduled, Saturday evening, and a very charming affair it was. There were forty members present and a very enjoyable evening was passed. The luck of the evening was without a doubt with Miss Carolyn Shields and Mr. Carlton Vail, each going home laden with a prize. The club is most fortunate in its committees who have delightfully planned an absolute embarrassment of good times and jolly little affairs for the coming season. A ping-pong tournament, under the direction of Mr. James Prindiville, and which is booked for the coming week, although the date is not as yet definitely announced, is being eagerly anticipated by the young people, and the club house which this evening will be given over to a phantom party and characteristic Halloween revelries promises to be the scene of much fun and merriment.
