

ST. MARY'S BAZAAR.

The bazaar was the biggest thing of its kind ever given in Highland Park, both socially and financially. Although the exact sum realized is yet unknown, enough is known to warrant the statement that it will exceed its closest competitor by several hundred dollars.

A pleasing feature of the bazaar was the musical programme offered each evening by the people from Chicago and elsewhere as well as Highland Park. It was an innovation and no bazaar of the future will be complete without it. Another pleasing feature was the band concerts by the Fort Sheridan Military band given on the opening night and on Thursday night of the last week. There was a military drill given on Thursday evening by a picked squad from the Fort under command of Sergeant Henderson. It was highly interesting and easily took first place in gaining the admiration of those present.

They all had words of commendation and praise for Father Morrissey and congratulated the people of St. Mary's parish on his appointment as pastor. Although he has been here only a short time he has already proved his ability to succeed in every sense of the word.

Among the many articles raffled off was a beautiful and valuable bronze lamp, donated by the Misses Moran, of Chicago, friends of Father Morrissey. They will be delighted to hear that he was fortunate enough to win it himself. A top buggy was

Father Morrissey made a little speech on Saturday evening and thanked the people who had so kindly assisted in making the bazaar a success, especially the non-catholics. He has become acquainted with many such and he is grateful for the kindly treatment received from them and hopes nothing will occur to prevent a continuation of this friendly feeling.

Everybody belonging to St. Mary's church is pleased—pleased because the bazaar was such a big success—pleased because of the appointment of Father Morrissey as pastor and pleased at the prospects in store for the people of St. Mary church under his guidance.
