Christmas candies in abundant varieties at Dale Sweetland's

Mrs. Fred P. Boynton gave the first of her post-nuptial receptions Wednesday.

Mrs. Richard Street will entertain some of her young friends very informally this afternoon.

Dale Sweetland has a great many happy little thoughts for Christmas presents. Call and see them.

Now is the time when your old shoes, barbed wire fencing and your neighbor's decaying plank sidewalks come in handy for fuel. Don't freeze if you can avoid it.

There was a wedding anniversary in this city last week. For further particulars inquire of A. R. Eppstein, of Chicago, or Carleton Meseley, of Highland Park.

Miss Carrie Tillman, of Orangeville, Ill., who has been the guest of her brothers, William and Richard Tillman, for the past three weeks, returned to her home Thursday.

Cards are out for Mrs. Charles W. Kirk's reception on Wednesday, December 17, to meet Miss Alice Watson, formerly of Highland Park, but who has been living for the past two years in South America and England.

Willie L. Howe, of Stockport, England, arrived in Highland Park, last Sunday, to visit his father, Mr. Thomas Howe, of Oakwood avenue. Willie left England, November 22, on the Campania. He reports a very rough voyage. While in mid-ocean an accident befell the steamer, and for a time it looked quite serious for all on board, but fortunately they were able to proceed, and landed in New York December 5. He will remain with his father for two months. This is his first visit to this country, and he is highly pleased with it.

The News-Letter $1 in advance.

Miss Cora Russell, of Port Rowan Can., who has been visiting with Miss Lillie Vetter, left for her home Monday

Miss Helen Morgau gave a musical afternoon last week, when Mrs. Alexander, Miss Turnley and Miss Jean Troxel sang.

Monday evening, December 15, Judge Kimball, of Chicago, will lecture on "Christian Science," at Goldberg's opera house.

Thursday the Lunch Club met with Mrs. Frederick Babcock. After luncheon the ladies attended the Ossoli to hear Miss Towner's paper on "History Illuminated in Fiction."

Undertaker Prior's new house is under way on his fine lot on the Sheridan Road, just north of the gas company's office. The location will secure him plenty of good light at a cheap rate.

Edgar Healy, the scenic painter, is at Goldberg's opera house this week painting scenery for the coming minstrel show to be given about the middle of January under the auspices of the Highland Park Club.

The Baptist Sunday school will observe its Christmas festivities in the meeting house. Tuesday evening, December 23, at 7:30 o'clock sharp. The venerable Santa Claus will come in an automobile this year so that all his sweetmeats, etc., will be fresh and toothsome.

The Church of Christ, Scientist, of Highland Park, invites you and your friends to a lecture on "Christian Science," by Edward A. Kimball, C. S. D., member of the Christian Science board of lecturership of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., Monday evening, December 15, 1902, at 8 o'clock, in Goldberg's opera house, Highland Park, Ill. No admission ticket required.

Dr. Haskins, who fell and broke his leg three weeks ago, is doing nicely and will soon be at his post of duty healing others.

The first sleigh of the season was seen on the streets Tuesday forenoon, but it was pretty "hard sleddin'."

The Ebenezer Evangelical Sunday school will hold its annual entertainment Wednesday evening, December 24—Christmas Eve.

James McDonald has put in part of his time this week attending the supervisors' meetings in Waukegan. They will see that the county's wards at Libertyville have a good Christmas dinner.

Miss Elizabeth Towner read a paper at the Ossoli Club meeting, Thursday afternoon, on "History Illuminated in Fiction." It is needless to say the essay was eminently instructive and satisfactory.

Postmaster MacArthur, of Glencoe, was here a day or two ago, probably to lay in a supply of stamps for the holiday business of his town. He was surprised to see how the Park was growing, so he took in some of the sights in town.

An unusually interesting musical program is in store for the worshippers of St. Mary's church on Christmas Day. An orchestra will assist the regular choir. Two high masses will be celebrated. A more extended notice will be given in our next issue.

Ben Goldberg, manager of Goldberg's opera house, has just announced by circulars a series of dances to take place every Saturday night at the opera house at the popular price of 25 cents admission. There will be two valuable prizes awarded each night to the two best waltzers. He has engaged a prominent orchestra for the season, and a large attendance is anticipated.

The officers and teachers of Ebenezer Sunday school met at the home of J. J. Brand, Monday evening, to arrange a program for their Christmas entertainment.

Quite a number of our young people attended the Y. P. S. C. E. rally in Chicago, last Tuesday evening. Frances Clark was the chief attraction.

Messrs. and Mesdames Burgess, Barton and Sumner, of Evanston, Ill., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howe, of Oakwood avenue.

Alfred St. Peter and his men are putting the burned-out Dickinson restaurant into shape again so Christmas dinner can be served there this year as usual.
