CHRISTMAS DINNERS FOR POOR.

Turkey and cranberries, nuts oranges and candy, dolls, toys, Christmas trees and Santa Claus. These are the subjects of greatest interest just now to almost every American boy and girl. Fathers and mothers are buying presents for Johnnie, Marie and the baby that will make them dance for joy, while the mince pies and cakes and other goodies for the Christmas dinner are already being prepared. All are looking forward to Christmas as a time of rejoicing, of giving and receiving, of eating and drinking and making merry.

What a contrast to this "Merry Christmas" is the picture to be seen in the slums of any of our large cities. Sickness, misfortune, poverty, squalor, want; children pinched with cold, crying for bread; parents in despair because Christmas brings no joy to the hovel they call home; such is the condition in thousands of homes in our cities even in these prosperous times.

The day before Christmas the Salvation Army proposes to distribute baskets of provisions to 2,000 of these homes in Chicago. Each basket will contain Christmas dinners for five people, making 10,000 Christmas dinners to be given to the poor of Chicago. Perhaps you can't give one of these baskets, but you can help by dropping the price of a chicken or a quart of cranberries into one of the Salvation Army contribution boxes placed in the different stores, or by sending a donation of cash or provisions to Colonel Charles Sowton, Salvation Army Headquarters, Chicago, Ill.

Last year the Salvation Army gave 200,000 free Christmas dinners to the poor of the United States.
