THE BRIGHAM LECTURES.

There will be a course of three lectures in the Presbyterian church on February 13, 20, 27. These are the stereopticon lectures of Mr. Nat. M. Brigham, and those who attended last year will be delighted by his return. The lecture on Feb. 13th will be on the "Grand Canon of Arizona," and it is safe to say that the pictures cannot be surpassed, and are changed so frequently as to nearly resemble a cinemetograph. The second lecture on February 20th is "The Apache Warpath," and Mr. Brigham will introduce a number of their songs. Mr. Brigham's voice is a delightful tenor. The third lecture is of the Mormons. Mr. Brigham was for fifteen years sheriff in Utah, and therefore knows of what he speaks. This is his latest lecture. Tickets for the course will be one dollar while single admissions are 35 cents.

MISS WYCOFF'S CONCERT.

At the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, January 30, under the auspices of the Young Woman's Auxiliary, a large audience enjoyed the program rendered by Miss Eva Emmett Wycoff. It was to be expected that this concert would prove a success, but that Miss Wycoff should have scored the big success that she did entitles her to the sincere congratulations of her many friends. For all the numbers of a musical program to be rendered by the same artist requires a very high order of talent on the part of the musician in order to do herself justice. Miss Wycoff's selections covered a wide range of musical composition and were as well rendered as they were fortunately chosen. Each number was appreciated by her hearers, as their hearty applause testified. Mrs. Everett gave the piano accompaniments to all but "A Song of Life." This was one of Mrs. A. O. Mason's compositions, and Mrs. Mason herself played the accompaniment. At the conclusion of this song both Miss Wycoff and Mrs. Mason were forced to bow their acknowledgments of the continued applause that their rendition elicited. If one were to pick from this program other selections that seemed to please the audience, perhaps it would be well to mention "Oh, Mighty Pens," from Mendelssohn; "Ma bien aimee e'est Toi," a recitation and aria from Alexandre, of Handl's. This concert and the program rendered at Mrs. Jones' studio last week by Miss Everingham, assisted by Mr. VanSchaick, are but fresh evidences of the musical talent of a high order that Highland Park possesses.

The following is the complete program rendered by Miss Wycoff:

1. Needham.....Haymaking
