The coming season promises to be an interesting one for yachtsmen on Fox Lake. At Highland Park the Palmer Boat Company is building a racing class B sloop for W. H. Lyford, owner of Flying Fox. The new boat is 29 feet over all, with 7 feet, 6 inches beam. A class a sloop for Roger C. Sullivan is under way. The boat is 37 feet 6 inches over all, with 8 feet beam, and will have two centerboards, one in each bilge. It is early in the season, and as a number of the club members are considering new boats it is probable several more new boats will be built and will include yachts for the special 22 feet catboat class.—Antioch News.

Early Wednesday morning two men, Benjamin Adams and James Marion escaped from the guard house at Fort Sheridan by means of a skeleton key made from a spoon. It is supposed that a file was smuggled to the men by a woman and that the key was fashioned from a spoon stolen from the mess table. No one noticed the escaping men until just as they were leaving the building and it was then too late to stop them. A careful search is being made and it is thought that the men will be recaptured.

If a bright, energetic boy comes to your door selling little trays, with pictures of the United Evangelical church and its pastor on them, try to help the good cause along by buying one. The K. T. C. League wishes to carpet its League room, and in order to do so is selling these little trays. The bright little members of this committee are as follows: Bertha Gieser, Lenora Knist, Henry and Edwin Machtele, Roger and Wesley Fritsch, Edwin Hintz, Milton Tillman, Arthur Meierhoff and Theo Moffit. This is an active, progressive league and should be recognized as such.
