The city election will be held next Tuesday, April 21st. It is the plain duty and privilege of every citizen to vote. In the wards where there is only one ticket many will not think it necessary to vote, but in the First and Fourth wards where there is opposition, every vote will be polled.

A Reasonable Supposition.
 "Good gracious!" exclaimed Mrs.
 Snarleton, throwing down the paper,
 "they've printed a picture of that homely Miss Ramsey under the head of 'Popular Society Beauties.'"
 "Humph!" replied Mr. Snarleton,
 "it was reported some time ago that
 her father was working on a scheme
 from which he expected to make millions. He must have carried it through."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Uncle Reuben Says:
 It seems to be one of de easiest things on airth to mortgage a piece of land and spend de money in gwine to de circus an' eatin' fried chickens, an' I reckon dis world would come powerful near bein' Heaven if de interest on dat mortgage didn't suddenly fall
 due an' bump a man all over to once
 an' make him realize dat dis am a vale
 of tears.—Detroit Free Press.

Repelling the Boarders.
 Across the deck appeared the
 swarthy face of the leading boarder.
 His eyes had a fierce glare.
 "Draw!" I cried.
 Still he said nothing—only continued to look at me as if to read
 my inmost soul.
 Now, to either side of him, I could see the other boarders. They all seemed to be waiting his lead.
 The one between the leader and
 myself dropped his hand.
 This must have been the cue, for
 I saw the leading boarder's eye
 brighten.
 "Draw!" I repeated.
 He spread out his hand.
 Looking carefully at it, he said:
 "Give me three cards."
 I stood pat.
 Then the boarding house game was
 over, for I had won all the money.
 —N. Y. Times.

The Constitution at Fault.
 "I tell you," said the first reformer, "we ought to start an agitation
 to curb the prize-fighting evil by means of a constitutional amendment."
 "But," objects the second reformer, "that would react upon all of us."
 "In what way?"
 "Doesn't the constitution guarantee the right of free speech?"— Judge.

Always Economical.
 Old Peterby is rich and stingy. In the event of his death his nephew is to inherit his property. A friend of the family said to the old gentleman:
 "I hear your nephew is going to marry. On that occasion you ought to do something to make him happy."
 "I will," said Mr. Peterby. "I'll pretend that I am dangerously ill."—Tit-Bits.

Somewhat Broken.
 "Was Mrs. Murphy pleased when she heard her husband's voice on the phonograph?"
 "Very much so."
 "But the record was scratched and
 his speech sounded incoherently."
 "Yes; she said it sounded just like him talking when he came home from the club."—Chicago Daily News.

Negative Improvement.
 Miss Chellus—Automobiling is her
 tad, now, I hear.
 Miss Speitz—Ah! yes; because it improves her looks at least 50 per cent.
 Miss Chellus—The idea! How?
 Miss Speitz—Because she wears a mask half the time.—Philadelphia Press.

Sad Forgetfulness.
 Dr. Stork—Samantha, I believe I am losing my memory.
 Samantha—What is the matter now,
 doctor?
 Dr. Stork (greatly perplexed)—Why,
 for the life of me, I can't remember whether those Joneses ordered boy or girl!—N. Y. Herald.

The Worst of It.
 Amelia—I don't see how you could permit him to say such dreadful things!
 Clara—It was awfully embarrassing.
 And the worst of it was we were in the dark, and, of course, he couldn't see I was blushing.—Town Topics.

Old Saying Revised.
 "That man is a public benefactor," remarked the observer of events and things, "who can make only one corn grow where two grew before."— Yonkers Statesman.
