having an increase of trade accordingly. Mr. Newton is an old hand at the business and knows how to select his stock of meats as well as to cut them and serve his customers.

If you notice, the stores who do the advertising are doing about all the business in this town, when the merchant stops advertising and business gets poor, he tries to recuperate by raising prices. Is that the kind of man do business with? Moral: Buy where the merchant is alive enough to "show" his wares.

A notable feature of the affair will be a French monologue by Mlle. Vogel-sang.

The Goldberg Bros., report a large increase in business in this the second week of their opening, this is a fair sample of what advertising will do, people always prefer to buy of merchants who are willing to ask for their trade in an open and honest manner, by purchasing goods at this store you don't have to go to Chicago to get cash prices as there is not a store there that undersells them, if you do not believe, just compare the general run of prices in their store and what you have been paying in the city.

Next Thursday evening the ladies of St. Mary's Court No. 112, Woman's Order of Foresters will give a May party in Goldberg's opera house. There will be refreshments served and an enjoyable evening for all present. Some misunderstanding seems to prevail as to the affair being held in the opera house on account of the Catholic church having engaged it, but as the ladies had made arrangements before the church burned to hold their party there, no changes have been necessary and a most pleasant evening is anticipated.

The Fort Sheridan Park at Highwood will open next Thursday, May 23d, with a grand display of new fixtures, refitted interior throughout, the buildings and in fact all the wood work about the park has been painted. The management this year will be under the very able direction of Mr. Miller and a vaudeville show will be the attraction, only it will be much better than in the past, if that were possible, as the arrangements have been more carefully made, because with their former experience, they have been able to overcome errors in engaging and booking as has been the case at times heretofore.
