Additional Locals

The opening day at the golf grounds Saturday last was a great success. People who have "sponged" their playing in former years will have to "pony up" this year.

The lightning last Tuesday morning struck Mrs. Gerbolet's house on Laurel avenue and there jumped across the street and hit Mr. Nolan's. It seemed to hit the roof in both cases and follow down the eave spouts to the cistern where the water put out the fire. The inmates of both house thought "kingdom had come," but the insurance agent sent carpenters to make repairs.

We understand there was gathering of young ladies whose high and holy purpose is never to marry, Wednesday evening with Miss Grace Elvey. The company was not large, but select, and the enthusiasm ran high as they spoke of their own future bliss and the loneliness and sorrow of the young men whose hearts their purpose, and plans had filled with sorrow.

The city council held a meeting Tuesday evening to act on a proposition of Mr. Frost, of the electric railway. The ordinance provides for flange or girder rails, but he can't get them yet for a long time and wishing to go ahead improving double tracking, etc., the road up north, asked permission to put down for the time being "T" rails to be replaced within a year, and of course the council did it.

A fond mother was boasting not long since of her son's wonderful scholarship and finally to cap the climax she said, "If it is possible to spell a word the wrong way, John is sure to find that way." A couple of weeks later some strange combination of the planets induced John to write us a letter and then all saw the wisdom of the mother. He said among other things, "I assure you" and he is a graduate of a first-class western university.

Mr. James G. Scrugham, who has had charge of the department of manual training in the township high school during the last two years has received well deserved promotion by having been appointed assistant professor of mechanical engineering in the state university of Nevada, situated at Reno, Nevada. The privilege is seldom given to so young a man as Mr. Scrugham, of filling as large a place in educational and social circles. His activities in the high school have been many and have been discharged successfully and well. He leaves with the affection and regard of fellow teachers, pupils and school management.
