NOT UP ON CLASSICS.

A Telegraph Message That Was Terribly Translated by the Operator.

A well-known literary woman went over to Michigan to prepare her summer cottage for occupancy during the summer. Before going she made arrangements with her husband to have a lot of household goods packed and forwarded by steamer, relates the Chicago Tribune.

For some reason the shipment was delayed, and she wrote inquiring the cause of the delay.

"Please wire me when the goods have been shipped," she said in conclusion.

The husband went hard to work and personally saw the books, hangings, and other property packed for the trip. Then he went down to the dock and saw them safely on board the boat.

Coming back from the river he stopped at a telegraph office and sent the message as requested.

"Lares and Penates on board boat," he said. "Will arrive to-morrow morning."

And this was the way the telegram read when the boy brought it to the waiting woman in the little Michigan town:

"Lard and peanuts on board boat. Will arrive to-morrow morning."

CAT'S LONG JOURNEY.

Covered Four Miles Eight Times to Get Her Kittens Back to Her Old Quarters.

"And the cat came back. I believe that is the name of a song popular some time ago, but I have evidence of the fact that there was never a truer saying," said C. T. Chichester, of Syracuse, N. Y., to a Washington Star man. "A friend of mine in Syracuse conducts a brewery, and a grocer friend presented him with an old cat and four kittens that had very recently been born. The old cat and little ones were carried to the brewery and securely locked in. The next morning the cat and kittens were on the front porch of the grocery store waiting to be let in. How do you account for that? The grocery was four miles from the brewery, and the kittens were too weak to walk even a few yards. If the cat carried them back in her teeth she must have done so one at a time, making eight miles for each kitten and 32 miles for the entire litter, or else she relayed them, carrying one a little distance, then going back after the next, and so on, until the last one had been deposited in her first stopping place, and so on in short distances until she reached the store. You can figure out the distance she travelled in this way."

A Man to Look Up To.

"Cy" Sulloway is the biggest man in the house of representatives. He is also chairman of the committee on invalid pensions. These facts combined to lend humor to an episode of the closing hours of the session, when another member a few inches over six feet himself, and filled to the top with red liquor, stumbled up against the giant from New Hampshire. "Ole Cy Sulloway," he exclaimed, thickly. "Dear ole Cy Sulloway. Only man in ziz congress I have to look up to (wrapping his arms about Cyrus). Come on an' we'll get a pension."—Boston Transcript.

to light your residence by means of Electricity THE ONLY PERFECT ILLUMINANT

And if a little care is exercised in its use, it is no more expensive than inferior illuminating agents which smoke up walls and decorations, give off excessive heat and disagreeable odors. If you use Electric Light in your home, you may also use many inexpensive, convenient little appliances which otherwise are not available.

If you are not using Electric Lights at the present time it will pay you to investigate the matter. A postal will bring our representative to your door.
