HIGHLAND PARK, ILL., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1903.

NO. 15.

High school books at Sweetland's High school begins next Monday. See W. E. Brand for Fire Insurance.

Mr. Thomas Daggitt's son, "Tommie" is very ill.

Mrs. Dr. Watson has been visiting at her home for a week.

A full line of high school books at Sweetland's Drug Store. 15

Books for all branches of the high school at Sweetland's Drug Store.

Major Vail and family expect to go back into their own home on the 15th.

Mrs. Bradford, of Chicago, spent Sunday with Mrs. Fred Frasier.

City Attorney Smoot expects his family back in the old home early next week.

Mrs. Ida Speorlin, of Chicago, is visiting her friend, Mrs. John Snyder, this week.

Miss Joy Miller will sing at the Highwood M. E. church at the Sunday morning service.

Mrs. C. P. Sullivan, accompanied by her little daughter, left for Milwaukee Friday morning.

Miss Molly Bottum is delayed returning to school on account of the sickness of her sister, Peace.

Mrs. Thomas Howe has returned from her two weeks visit with her son, James Daggitt, in Benton Harbor, Mich.

Ex-City Attorney Samuel F. Knox is spending a week in Kansas, among the sunflowers of that prosperous commonwealth.

Mrs. N. J. Ross, wife of the proprietor of the Avenue House, at Evanston, and her son visited Mrs. J. L. Miller this week.

Mrs. Lillian LeFeber, who has been with her parents Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Watson, has returned to her former home in Indianapolis.

Mrs. Ryder, daughter of G. H. Campbell, spent the week in Highland Park with her father. Mr. Ryder will spend Sunday here.

W. B. Schumacher has returned from his summer vacation up on Traverse Bay, but his family will not be here till next week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hughes, of Portland, Oregon, were pleasant callers at the R. R. Men's Home last week. Mr. Hughes is a passenger conductor.

The big baseball game this Saturday afternoon on the Academy grounds, between the single and married men, will settle some important questions.

John Costello and wife and A. Goyt and wife, of Chicago, B. R. T. Lodge No. 456, were callers at the Home for aged and disabled R. R. men last Monday.

The Baptist church holds its picnic at Lincoln Park, Saturday, September 12. Car leaves bank corner at 10:45 a. m. Round trip 30 cents. Tickets for sale in car.

Mrs. Jno. Gartner and her daughter, Rose, of St. Charles, Ill., were guests at the home of J. S. Reesman last Sunday, as was also Ambrose Hamigs, Jr., of Chicago.

St. Mary's Sewing Circle met at the home of Mrs. Joseph Stipe, of Ravinia, last Thursday. Ice cream and cake were served and a very pleasant afternoon was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fletcher attended the wedding of Miss Lillian Bunker, Thursday night, at the M. E. church, Wilmette. Miss Bunker was formerly post-mistress at that place.

The Baptist meeting house has been overhauled, the floors stained, new carpets for the aisles, pulpit, platform, etc. The carpets have not yet come and so they do not expect to hold services tomorrow, but there will be services next Sunday.

Messrs. Cape & Sons have taken an appeal from Judge Hibbard's decision last week, giving the Telephone Company a damage of $90 against the Capes for injuries to the telephone cable in the Vine avenue viaduct.

The railroad demurrage case which was in Judge Hibbard's court a year ago, has got up to the Supreme court, on a certificate of importance from the Appellate court, and a decision may be expected next month.

Mrs. Annette R. Jones will open a Kindergarten department of music, in connection with piano instruction, at her studio. Classes will be under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Newell Gould, of the Caruthers School, Chicago.

We are sorry to learn that Harry Morgan, the "old reliable Harry," is to leave Evans' grocery business. People had come to regard Harry as a fixture there, as the right spoke in the wheel. He has helped the trade of that store in a marked degree.

The old time poet and real estate man, J. C. Cairns, of Lawndale, Chicago, is dead. Highland Park people will remember Mr. Cairns as the man who surveyed the slough west of town and afterward wrote some verses on it.

Mrs. S. Richey, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who has been visiting Mrs. Watson at the R. R. Men's Home, left Wednesday. She goes from Chicago to Milwaukee by boat and from there across the lake to Grand Rapids, Mich. Mrs. Richey says that Highland Park is an "ideal Eden."

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church were much gratified at the attendance at the concert on Thursday, at the Moraine. Mr. Cushing, with his usual kindness, did everything to make it a success, and the audience greatly appreciated the talent of the artists who gave their best efforts to the society.

H. C. Basye accompanied his son Arthur A and wife on their return to their home at the "Soo." He sold his farm out west, rented his house and took what household goods he wanted and went up by steamer last Saturday night. Cashier Holmes of the Highland Park Bank, has charge of Mr. Basye's business here.

Miss Anna MacLaren Smith, of New York, will open a School of Expression in Highland Park. Miss Smith has placed her work in the cities of Denver, Omaha, and many other places in the west. She is a graduate of New York School of Expression, New York city, and a University Lady.

Landlord Evans has bought the old carpets from the Baptist meeting house and had them made into rugs for his hotel. We presume he thought they would add a high moral tone and an odor of sanctity to his prosperous hostelry, and he was not far out of the way. At all events carpets trodden by so many saints will make good rugs.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all who so kindly assisted in the last services of our dear wife and mother, for the kind words of sympathy and the many beautiful flowers.

MR. ANDREW KUIST AND CHILDREN.
