

RAVINIA.

Mrs. Babb of Chicago, lately visited Mrs. James Genty.

Mr. James Genty has had his house painted, greatly to its advantage.

Mr. Hessler of this place, left Tuesday for northern Wisconsin on a hunting expedition.

Mrs. Hill has been detained by a badly sprained ankle from going south. "The best laid plans of mice and men gang aft a-glee."

Poles are being erected on Dean, Judson and Roger Williams avenues for electric wires. We shall soon be lighted by electricity.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Collum have returned to Ravinia with their young daughter. They expect to spend the winter with Mrs. Collum's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jessup.

The Bullock family, with the charming Miss Fulsom, have gone to Chicago for the winter. They are to have a wedding at their Chicago home early in November.

Mr. Samuel Hill, of the Fort Collins Express, lately visited the Comstock family. The Damon and Pythias spirit has not yet perished from a cold and heartless world.

Some of the cottage-owners say that they would like to paint their 'shacks' if it were not that they might look 'stuck up' before the paint dries, if people don't remember 'hands off.'

Ravinia has neither church services nor Sunday School. If some iron-clad minister, with a congregation, would move in, he could use the church-building and try to "convert the heathen."

Miss Barbara Koller was married to Mr. William Koos of Wilmette last Tuesday morning. Father Morrissey performed the ceremony. Mrs. Koos is a niece of Mrs. Sebastian Stipe and her many friends wish her abundant happiness in her new life.

The waiting platform of the Chicago-Milwaukee & Electric Road at this place is a menace to public safety. It slants so much towards the south that as soon as it is the least bit slippery some one will be seriously hurt and a heavy damage suit against the company will be the result.

Mr. Lake will spend the winter in California. Our residents are wondering if he will take down the wire fence that shuts off the main road to the lake, against which it is whispered that an unfortunate horseman nearly lost his life some little time ago and couldn't sue for damages because the fence temporarily disappeared.

Mrs. Blank and daughter called on Mrs. Blanker and were told that Mrs. Blanker had a dressmaker and, as the maid delivered it, "said yous was to call agin," Mrs. Blank now has private detectives employed to find out when Mrs. Blanker is not in the throes of that rare and radiant experience, having a dressmaker, so that Mrs. Blanker can "call agin." Well, aint "the elight" funny? I mean "reel comical?"

Since Mrs. Fussell has had her new cement sidewalk put in she thinks the summer cottage on her street "looks like some new kind of a sprinkling cart." It is strange how a cement sidewalk, when it replaces time-worn, rotten boards, can make people 'look down' on those who won't 'look up.' But Mrs. Fussell, though well off, is thrifty. She carried in the rotten boards left from her old side-walk with her own fair hands, for kindling wood. Before marriage she lived at Glencoe and made dresses. Now she has a cement sidewalk and hires dressmakers who know how to "dress-make." She deserves credit.

Swedish M. E.—Highwood, Ills. Gustaf Erickson, Pastor. Sunday School, 10:30 a. m. Epworth League, 7:00 p. m. Evening service, 8:00 Sundays and Thursday.
