HIGHWOOD.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shelton, Nov. 23, a daughter.

That knotty problem,"What Shall We Do With Our Ex-Presidents?" was solved in Ft. Sheridan when the city dump was established.

President A. C. Frost, of theC. & M. E. R'y remembered his employees in a substantial manner the day before thanksgiving. Each married man received a turkey, two quarts of caanberries, a bunch of celery and a bag of nuts. It required 200 birds to go round.

TWO ALARMS OF FIRE.

About 7 o'clock last Sunday evening the vacant ten acre tract lying between North avenue and Hyats subdivision on the west side was dis St., St. Louis, Mo. covered to be on fire. The fire whistle was blown and brought the firemen, who promptly extinguished it. The fire had spread until it covered a space 500 feet wide and was rapidly nearing the rear of the buildings that fiont on Railway aveavenue.

The following day about three o'clock the whistle sounded another alarm, this time it proved to be the barn of Chas. J. Benson, which is situated on the brow of the hill overlooking the slough. Chief Detrick and his department responded with the same promptness for which they have become noted. On reaching the scene the chief saw at once that the barn would be a total loss, and turned his attention to saving Mr. Benson's house which was being endangered by flames a hundred feet high. The barn was old and dry and burned fiercely while it lasted. The residence was not injured beyond the breaking or window glass due to the extreme heat. The barn and contents were a total loss, insurance $200. Our citizens are loud in their praise of the fire department who have proved their efficiency in every emergency.
