WANTED—Every lady to bring in checks and get premiums for them, as the present checks will all be redeemed by August 1. Mrs. Bohl, Ladies' Bazaar. 7

Some people find great pleasure or rather satisfaction in interfering with the love affairs of others, especially so when their own marriage is not pleasant. A recent case is noted in this place where a young married woman used every means imaginable, and at last succeeded in parting a young lady and her betrothed by a series of contemptible lies which would only be used by those unfit for good society. Such underhanded bickerings as these only call for contempt, and a young couple who will allow themselves to be influenced by a busybody of this kind should never marry.
