FOR CIRCUIT CLERK.

I shall be a candidate for renomination, for a second term, to the office of Circuit Clerk, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention.

LEWIS O. BROCKWAY.

Novels as Intoxicants.

Five times as much money in 1903, it is estimated, was spent for literature as for "booze." Under this slang term for drink is doubtless included all kinds of intoxicants from cider to absinthe, and under literature every grade of type in binding from reprints of Shakespeare to the latest novel of Marie Corélli. It would be amusing, were it possible, to see if the drink did five times the harm, observes Collier's Weekly. How much cognac, for instance, could fairly be set against an edition of 300,000 of a new novel by Hall Caine? How much beer would equal in sodden consequences the season's output of fictionized history? Good books, whether of the imagination or of information, surpass in inspiration the finest beverage ever quaffed and celebrated by Omar or John Keats, but ordinary books cannot compare in efficiency as evils with the common abuse of whisky. Therefore, we take the drink expense to be a misfortune more than five times as great as the misfortune caused by the sum wasted upon what our esteemed contemporaries cheerfully describe as literature. Where drink makes criminals, novels make nothing worse than idiots.

The Grape Cure.

The grape cure at Wiesbaden has for a long time been an important feature of the autumn season at that famous health resort. The worth of the cure lies in the high per cent. of sugar in the fruit, grapes being from 24 to 50 per cent. sugar, with important elements of acid and water.

Italian Immigrants.

In 30 years 1,391,076 Italians have come to this country. This immigration has a very peculiar character. Until 1890 the percentage of women was less than 15, but now it has increased to 39. This indicates that the immigration has a marked tendency to become permanent.
