Two men, Tom Murdow and Henry Schreme of Glencoe, while hunting in the Skokie swamp, Thursday, made a frightful discovery. The body of a woman, which at the first they thought was lifeless was found laying near the edge of the swamp. She was still living but nearly dead from exhaustion. Her talk was incoherent. She was dressed in hospital uniform, which appeared to resemble that worn by patients at Dunning. The authorities there were notified and at first said no one was missing, but later found that a female inmate had been missing for three days. It appears that she had been wandering around without food until she fell from exhaustion. She was well cared for at Glencoe until taken in charge by a Dunning attendant, who offered no explanation of the escape.

Mr. Pfanstiehl's Lectures

At the Wednesday evening service at the Presbyterian church this week, Rev. A. A. Pfanstiehl began a series of study talks on the Four Gospels. Mr. Pfanstiehl has given a good deal of thought and study to this series, and they are very interesting as well as instructive. His talk Wednesday night was on "Why Four Gospels?" He showed the characteristics of each Gospel, the definite purpose each author had in writing it and why only he could have written such an one.

Next Wednesday he will begin a more minute study of each of the four Gospels, its author, and its aim. Then as the course progresses, he will enlarge upon the practical and spiritual teachings of Christ as contained in each Gospel.

Every one is most cordially invited to these meetings, and we feel sure that those who attend will feel more than compensated for the time so spent.

High School Dramatics

The High School Dramatics given last evening at Ravinia theatre were a decided success. The chorus was beautifully costumed and sang with spirit and volume and in splendid harmony; they well merited the hearty encore they received.

The German play was excellent. Every part was well taken, from the servants to the old couple. Their German accent was good and their interpretation was so clever, that those in the audience who understood no German were able to follow and enjoy the plot.

The Indian dancing and singing scored an immense hit. The audience could not get enough of their weird performance. Mr. Averill and Miss Sutton were at their best in "The Happy Pair," and the audience was responsive to every line. The couple responded to a curtain call.

"The Romancers" was one of the most beautiful things seen on the stage. The costuming and stage effects were charming. Mr. Williams proved an ideal lover, full of grace and buoyance. Miss Sutton was beautiful as well as clever in her part.

The old men, Mr. Averill and Mr. Prior, were exceedingly interesting and Straforel the bandit was impersonated by Mr. Green in a manner worthy of a professional.

The orchestra was good and Mr. Sumner's organ solo was a splendid achievement.

An immense audience greeted the performance. It came not only from Highland Park but from all the other towns on the North Shore. It was a distinguished audience. President Richard Harland and Mrs. Harland of Lake Forest College occupied one of the boxes.

Money was not spared to make the entertainment a success but a large sum was secured over and above the expenses with which to purchase the coveted art treasure for the High School.

We do a big prescription business. Doctors like to have their prescriptions filed here, for they know that we do the compounding right.
