Highland Park, Illinois

LIKE the traditional Englishman, Arthur Stanley, Dean of Westminster, brought home from his first visit to America an expression of amazement which only time could efface.

He was at once beset by interviewers, who asked the usual questions.

"What was the thing which most impressed you in America?" was one of these.

Without a moment's hesitation Dean Stanley replied:

"My own ignorance."

SOMEWHAT.

"Henry has quite an ear for Wagner."

"Indeed?"

"Yes; you know he is somewhat hard of hearing."

PLENTY OF REFERENCES.

Mrs. Snobbs—"I want a girl accustomed to being employed in the best families."

Agent—"I've got just the girl you want. She was employed in seven of the best families last month."

A GROWING BUSINESS.

A weekly paper in Illinois recently delivered itself of the following: "This week the Journal begins its eighth year. Has our business grown during the past seven years? We should say so. We started in business $150 in debt. Now we owe ten times that sum. We have one subscriber, just one, who started in seven years ago and has stood faithfully by us ever since—and never paid a cent."

"A WEE DOGGY."

The janitor of a college had a mean little dog of which he was very fond, and, when teased about him, he would say: "I woodna take twenty dollars for ma wee doggy."

Some Freshmen decided to test Sandy's assertion, and made up twenty dollars between them. Then they led up to the familiar statement, and one of the boys said: "Now, Sandy, I'd like that dog myself, and here's twenty dollars if you will sell him."

He counted out twenty dollars on the table near Sandy. Without a smile Sandy drew a fifty-cent piece from his pocket and said, as he took up the twenty dollars: "Weel, I didna say I woodna take nineteen fuffy. The wee doggy's yourn."

FIFTY YEARS

From a small beginning this firm has grown until our factories now cover many acres. Some of our machines sold fifty years ago are still giving faithful service.

WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINES

The Rotary Hook, a distinctive feature, originated with this machine, operates in one continuous revolving motion. Compared to a shuttle it works on exactly the same principle as the circular buzz saw in contradistinction to the cross cut saw. The work that can be accomplished, the speed that can be made, and the ease and convenience of operation all are features that have combined to give this machine its present enviable prestige.
