Much interest is shown in the bowling tournament now going on at Matthews' alleys. Five two-men teams are competing. At present Eddie Matthews holds the high individual score, he having rolled 663 in three games.

Friemen's Masquerade

The Firemen's Masquerade Ball, at Ft. Sheridan Park, last Tuesday evening, proved a grand success both financially and socially. In point of numbers present, and beauty of costumes the affair broke all previous records at that famous resort. The crowd, consisting largely of local residents, was unusually sociable, many of the older people taking part in the dance.

The grand march started at 11 o'clock, led by Assistant Marshal Yager and wife followed by more than fifty masqued couples. Miss Mamie Wise and J. W. Bomboy were awarded prizes as the best dressed lady and gent; Hugh McNeil, dressed as "Happy Hooligan," looked and acted the part so well that he was declared the most comical dressed gent. Miss Emma Fagan, as "Rag-time Liz," was delightfully funny and was greeted with applause on her name being mentioned as the most comical dressed lady.

In addition to the large number present, the firemen sold many tickets to people who did not attend. Their net receipts are estimated at $100.

Don't forget "Heart of Maryland," at Schwartz theatre, Waukegan, Thursday, Feb. 23. It's great.

Council Meeting

City Council met last Tuesday evening, but as the members were in a hurry to get to the Firemen's ball, no business of importance was transacted beyond the payment of bills and salaries. The expected communication from the city council of Highland Park regarding sewerage connection did not appear.

Mary McCarty, an exceptionally pretty girl, age 18, who ran away from her home in Chicago two weeks ago, was found by her mother in Highwood last Thursday. Although her parents are said to be wealthy, she was employed as a domestic in a local family and with much reluctance returned home with her mother.

Jean Cox and family now occupy the cottage recently vacated by George White.

The Citizens' Party held an enthusiastic meeting at Tammany Hall last Tuesday evening.
