

"Hang the bills!"
 "You can't; you'll have to pay them!"
 "Then—" he seized her hand again, and the boy at the fountain grinned.

Helen turned very pink. "How can you make an exhibition of me?" she exclaimed, rising precipitately, "you—you had better call tomorrow."

"And find Mrs. Martin in? Look here I'm not going to have any nonsense. I love you! Will you, or wont you? If you dont say something, I'll shout it out."

"I think you've got a very horrid disappointing way of proposing," she pouted.

"It's the best I can do, and there's an end of it." He was getting very angry, and as she faced his determined eyes her own sank.

"Well, I dont mind telling you something," she said.

"And that?" expectantly.
 "I missed the policeman on purpose!" she said demurely.

Death of Mrs. Glader

Their is mourning and sadness in the home of Mr. Peter Glader today. Mrs. Lizzie Krueger Glader died at St. Mary's Hospital, Chicago, yesterday afternoon as the result of an operation performed a few days ago. Mrs. Glader was born in Highland Park November 26th 1874, and has made this her home ever since that time. She was married about fourteen years ago to Peter Glader of this city, and besides her husband three children, Estelle, Win, and Emily are left to mourn her death. Living in this city are her mother, Mrs. Flora Krueger, six brothers, Elihu, August, Fred, Albert, William, and John, and three sisters, Mrs. Bertha Williams, Mrs. Hannah Bock, and Mrs. Gurand. Another sister, Mrs. Augusta Fay of Dakota, and two brothers Jacob Kruger of Shermerville, and Henry Kruger of Kansas survive her. The sympathy of friends and acquaintances is extended to this family in their late bereavement.

Miss Lillian Vetter entertained as her guests Sunday Miss Lillian Anderson, Miss Elizabeth Schroder, Mr. M. Schal and Mr. A. J. Gillet, all of Chicago.

Miss Gertrude Brand begins her vacation this week and she with her sister Mrs. Fred C. Noernberg will visit friends in Milwaukee and from there go to Rifon, Wisconsin, for a short time.

About thirty of his young friends surprised Edwin Maechtle on Monday evening by coming to his house and giving an evening's entertainment. They brought with them games and refreshments and all enjoyed a fine time.

Mr. Henry Bell is again at home, having returned from the West early in the week. Mr. Bell brought with him a cousin from California who will make his home with the Bell family and enter the High School in the fall.

Ben. Goldberg has bought the grocery store formerly owned by F. M. Evans on St. Johns avenue and it will hereafter be known as the Highland Park Grocery. It is one of the best locations in town, and we prophesy Mr. Goldberg's success. See advertisement in this issue.

The Prohibition Club of Deerfield Township will meet in the lecture room of the Baptist Church, Monday evening, at eight o'clock. Rev. Rogers will deliver a short address. A permanent organization will be affected. All friends of the cause are most cordially invited.

GLENCOE NOTES

Miss Laura Williams gave a thimble party, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Lawrence Howard of New Jersey, formerly of Glencoe, is visiting his parents.

Mrs. Ben Newhall leaves Saturday for North Manitou Island, to remain for some time.

Miss Gertrude Taylor left Thursday for a two weeks' visit in Little Bay de Noquette, Michigan.

Miss Eleanor Hurford will spend next week in Minneapolis, where she will be the guest at a house party.

An informal dance for the college set, home for vacation, was given by Messrs Ben and Bert Schnurr Thursday evening.

Mrs. Underwood and Miss Blackstone, who have passed the past three weeks in New York City, returned home this week.

Dr. Darling, pastor of the Congregational church, is in North Manitou Island, where he has been for the past two weeks.

The Christian Science society has applied for the privilege of using the council chamber twice a week for the coming fall and winter.

Mrs. Calman Martin entertained nine young ladies at cards Monday afternoon, to meet her niece, Miss Carrie Gilman of Michigan City, Michigan.

Miss Katherine Sherman of New York, guest of Miss Alice Underwood, returned Thursday evening, accompanied by Miss Underwood, for Minneapolis.

Mrs. Charles Wilson, her mother and sister, Mrs. Mars and Miss Mary Mars of Galesburg, Illinois, have gone to California. They expect to make an extended tour of the west.

The rains, lately, have caused considerable damage on both east and west sides and an extension of tiling is necessary south of Railroad avenue.

is urged as speedily as possible.

Miss Charlotte Ehrman, who has been the guest of Mrs. Will Scott for the last two weeks left Monday for her home in Evansville, Indiana. Mrs. Edwin H. Anderson of Missouri is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Plummer.

Among other improvements needed in the village are cement sidewalks. When it is taken into consideration that the number of miles of walk planned for is twenty-five, it becomes quite a startling figure for a suburb of this size. The assessments will be made in installments, covering five years, however.

The question of having Central, Park and Longwood avenues, also 1500 feet of Sheridan Road a short distance north of Newhall bridge, paved with macadam, is before the council. A meeting of that body, however, will not be held until the regular time, the first Tuesday in September. Having been unable to form a quorum the first of August business was postponed.

The crisis of Glencoe's quarrel with automobiles seems to have been reached. The pretty little village is tired of posing spider-like to catch all flies who fly too swiftly on Sheridan Road, and President Ramsey of the council has issued orders to begin the building of brick crossings on all streets intersecting Sheridan Road at once.

The fact that Glencoe possesses about the prettiest bit of racing track for automobiles on the North Shore, and is contemplating a means of rendering that sport impossible, is causing no little talk in the Chicago Automobile Club, who are rather incensed by the proceedings, while there is hardly a resident in the village who is not indignant at the present state of affairs. Driving on Sheridan Road is dangerous with a line of autos going at the rate of from thirty to fortyfive miles an hour, and even crossing the street is no easy matter at times.

"It has come to this", says President Ramsey, "that either Glencoe must give up the road to the machines or they must be compelled to preserve a reasonable amount of speed on that highway."

Secretary Sidney Gorham of the Chicago Automobile Club who has been investigating the matter for the club, with Mr. George Sieber, contractor for the new crossings, tried the effect on the machines of the two-inch crown crossings on Green Bay Road, with a speed of twelve miles an hour. The rebound was considerable, causing the occupants to be almost thrown from their seats and proving the impossibility of any racing on Sheridan Road in the future.

Secretary Gorham says the club wishes to compromise and is very anxious to avoid all trouble, but if necessary will get out an injunction to stop the building of the crossings at once. Cuts and diagrams were given him, which the club committee will pass upon. In the mean time Mr. Sieber, of course, will carry out the instructions of the council, and Glencoe is standing tip-toe with expectancy.

The present diagram shows the center or crown of the planned crossings to have a raise of three inches. This would cause a great deal of strain on the machines and at the same time would act as a safeguard to the automobilists, as both Stone and Newhall bridges have been condemned for heavy catastrophe may thus be

Mrs. Alice M. Hovey died last Saturday at her home in Morgan Park. She had been an invalid for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Hovey were among the early settlers of Glencoe, living at the corner of Hazel avenue and Sheridan Road. In 1884 they sold their Glencoe place and removed to Chicago, leaving there after three years for Morgan Park. Their son, Mr. Walter A. Hovey, has been a resident of Glencoe for some time.

F. K. Bumstead, manager of the Lake County Directory, is progressing nicely in his canvass of this city.

Most people know that Miss Gerkin fell and hurt herself on an icy sidewalk about a year and a half ago. She sued the city in the Circuit Court and got a judgment for $800 damages. The city appealed the case, and this week the Appellate Court reversed the Circuit Court's decision.

Every man owes it to himself and his family to master a trade or profession. Read the display advertisement of the six Morse Schools of Telegraphy, in this issue and learn how easily a young man or lady may learn telegraphy and be assured a position.

Judge Hibbard wants the names of all those who wish to bid, as contractors for any part or all the work on the new Library building, so the architect can inform them when the specifications will be ready, probably about August 14th. The law requires the work to be let to the lowest responsible and most satisfactory bidder.

Frank Gallagher, the ice man, has reason to be proud of his success this season. When he took over the business of Mr. Benson in the Spring the big ice houses were full—now they are just empty, all sold out to supply his rapidly increasing trade. Nor is that all. Last week he had four extra car loads of ice come from Wisconsin, and this week two car loads more, all this proves that his customers are pleased with him and his work.
