Stereopticon Entertainment

The Stereopticon & Flim Exchange of Chicago, of which Mr. W. B. Moore is manager, very generously furnished the evening's entertainment for the soldiers in the mess hall at Fort Sheridan last Monday night. And it was a fine exhibition of modern moving pictures and illustrated songs. Mr. Moore brought his entire picture plant to the Post and gave the 800 soldiers the same kind of an entertainment he gives in large places for a good round sum of money. Everything was gratis at the Post, however.

An audience of Uncle Sam's fighting men likes lively scenes, therefor Mr. Moore exhibited the Britt-Neilson contest, and a number of very comical films to the satisfaction of all. The entertainment was chaptered off with three beautifully illustrated songs by Mr. Charles Schneider of Highland Park. Mr. Schneider has sung and worked himself by good deeds into the hearts of the soldiers. Mrs. Moore, wife of Adjutant Moore, played the accompaniment to the songs.

An Honest Man

Woonsocket had for a long time chief of police, one Alf Church, noted for his bluntness and straightforwardness. One day a grocer went to Alf for information about a certain Joe White who had ap for credit and a book at his store, and the following dialogue ensued:

"Good morning", Mr. Church.

"Morning."

"Do you know Joe White?"

"Yes."

"What kind of a feller is he?"

"Putty fair."

"Is he honest?"

"Honest? I should say so. Been arrested twice or stealing and acquitted both times."

A young lady on a recent trip to Chicago, in order to kill a little time went and consulted a fortune teller, who told her that her father was a hard working man who shoveled coal and tended fires for a living. And her father is dead.

GINSENG

Information Relating to the Richest Product of the Soil

Prof. Howard of the Missouri State College says: "I advise American farmers to cultivate Ginseng. Big profits are realized. It is easily grown." A bulletin by the Pennsylvania State College says: "The supply of native Ginseng Root is rapidly deminishing and the price per pound is correspondingly increasing, while the constant demand for the drug in China stands as a guarantee of a steady market for Ginseng in the future." American Consul General Wildman at Hong Kong writes: "There will be little difficulty in disposing on this coast of all the Ginseng that is grown in America."

Ginseng is a staple on the market the same as corn, wheat or cotton. The present market price varies from $6.00 to $8.00 per pound, while the cost of production is less than $1.50. There is room in one's garden to grow several hundred dollars worth each year. The plant can be grown throughout the United States and Canada in any soil or climate that will grow ordinary garden vegetables. There are two planting seasons, spring and fall.

We are buyers and exporters of the dried product, and grow roots and seeds for planting purposes. Let us show you how to make money growing Ginseng. You can get a practical start in the business for a small outlay and soon have a nice income. Send two-cent stamp today for our illustrated literature telling all about it. Write once; you may not see this ad again.
