

What People Are Doing in Highwood

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Laegeler are the parents of a bouncing boy, born Monday.

Mayor Gibbs, Julius Laegeler and W. B. Cummings are the first to make connections with the new sewer.

Miss Blanche Malcolm of this city and Mr. W. J. Dayle of Chicago were married in Chicago Wednesday. They will reside in Highwood this summer.

Colonel R. E. A. Crofton Garrison, of the Regular Army and Navy Union, will effect an organization on the evening of July 20th, at 7 p. m. Further particulars will be given next week.

A girl baby was born to Alderman and Mrs. Richard O'Connor on Wednesday.

About 20 pupils of Miss Sweeney's school at the North End held a picnic at the Desplaines river Thursday evening. A fine time was enjoyed.

FREE A set of beautiful dishes. Ask for trading stamps at Mrs. Bohl's store

Mr. Ed. Fagan and Miss Skeins of Lake Forest were married at Lake Forest on Wednesday afternoon. They will reside in Highwood.

Julius Laegeler has received a full line of the highest class fishing tackle of every description. His prices are right, too. Call and investigate.

Mayor Gibbs, Mr. Miller and Mr. Graham, Committee of the Board of Supervisors, and the Highway Commissioners have this week been investigating plans for a new iron bridge with stone abutments at Hayneville.

Mrs. W. W. Wagoner spent last week with her parents at Elgin, Illinois.

WANTED—An experienced cook at E. C. Carlson's restaurant, Highwood.

A man from Highland Park came up to Highwood the first of the week, and succeeded in creating quite an impression. Made strong by artificial means he sized one of the citizens of Highwood and threw him over his head. The unfortunate citizen alighted on his head and shoulders and is now in the hospital suffering from broken bones and bruises. The case was settled out of court.

Engineer Shields is at present engaged in establishing grades for cement sidewalks, and when he has finished the City Council will pass ordinances for cement sidewalks on several places in town. Can it be possible that Highwood will some day be free of mud and dirt?

Judge Hibbard of Highland Park has seriously offended Judge Pease of Highwood. In an article in the Waukegan Gazette Judge Hibbard asserted that his ancestors came over to Massachusetts the same year as did Judge Pease's, namely, in 1635.

Judge Pease denies the fact, and asserts emphatically, that his great-(repeat several times)-grandfather came over in 1634, and had a large amount of land cleared before Judge Hibbard's progenitors set foot on the classic shores of Plymouth Bay.

This difference of opinion, or of record, is an important one, and if the good old days of honor were still with us, we make no doubt but that the rising sun would some morning cast its rays over the broad bosom of Lake Michigan only to shine upon the life blood of one of these brave gentlemen who had, after nearly three centuries, upheld to the last the honor of a worthy name.
