Perry L. Persons

Experience, Ability and Integrity

The people desire these qualifications in the office of county judge.

Judge Jones has them

Judge Dewitt L. Jones is a prominent candidate for the Republican nomination for County Judge, is one of the influential and strong men in the party in Lake County. He is a native of Warren Township, where he worked on a farm during his boyhood days and from where he enlisted in the army, as a private, during the war of the Rebellion in Co. D, 146th Ill. Inf.

Following the war he taught school and farmed until 1876, when he began the study of law in Waukegan, and was admitted to the bar 1878. The school of hard work and economy and hard service in the war of the Rebellion, through which he passed in his early years peculiarly fitted him for the public life in which he has taken a prominent part in Lake County, during the last twenty-five years.

He was States Attorney from December, 1887, to December 1888, and was City Attorney from the City of Waukegan, previous to his election, as county judge, for six terms, and during the time that he held the office of City Attorney he established a record as an efficient, careful, capable and able city official, in whom and whose ability, the different successive city administrations had full confidence.

During the time he has held the office of County Judge, he has developed into an able jurist; he stands high as a judge, not only in Lake County, but in Cook County, and in the different counties of Northern Illinois, where, from time to time, he has been called upon to preside. He was elected vice president of the County and probate judges Association of Illinois at its session in Springfield in May last. In Lake County, in the past few years, the duties of the County Judge have become very great, and the amount of business in this court is several times larger than that in most counties of the population of Lake County for the reason that there are so many varied and important interests in this county, much of whose business comes before the County Judge. To fill the office fairly, acceptable to the public, required a man of ability and experience. Judge Jones has shown himself to be well fitted for this position, and has a grasp upon the different branches of the law that are presented to him in the practice in his court.

But Judge Jones has shown himself peculiarly valuable to the county as probate judge. He has felt keenly the responsibility placed upon him in carefully looking after the estates in this court, and the interests of the widows of orphans, who are in a way the wards of the probate court.

The high ideal, properly demanded by the people from the person occupying that position is found in Judge Jones, and as such an one he is recognized and respected and believed in by the members of the Bar, who practice in his court. No higher praise can be given to a judge in looking after estates than is given to Judge Jones, in this county, and it is warranted by the experience the public have had with him.

He is a member of the Masonic Order, being a prominent Knight Templar, and is also a member of the Waukegan Post, No. 374, G. A. R.

His many friends in Waukegan, and all parts of Lake County feel confident that on account of his record he will be renominated by the Republican party to succeed himself in the responsible and honorable position that he now fills with so much credit.

Hints for Hot Weather

☞ Drink plenty of pure water. The only kind I use in my soda fountain is

Sparkling Spring Water

Eat fruits instead of meats. I serve fresh crushed fruits at the fountain.

☞ Seek cool shady places. There is a large shade tree at the entrance to my store that keeps us cool and comfortable. Come in and be refreshed.
