

What People Are Doing in Highwood

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Methodist church will hold a bazaar in the City Hall on December 4, 5, 6 and 7. There will be a large amount of fancy work, children's clothing and groceries on sale, besides other useful and beautiful articles.

On Wednesday evening the Odd Fellows gave a farewell party and dance in their hall to Commissary Sergeant and Mrs. Frank Leahman, who leave soon for Sergt. Leahman's new post at Madison Barracks, New York. It was a very enjoyable affair, and was largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Inman of Ravenswood were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hogan this week.

Julius Laegeler has just received his usual large line of holiday goods, and they will be on display December 1.

The tracks of the C. & M. E. Ry. on Highwood avenue have been taken up, and the street is being re-graded and rolled with a 20-ton roller.

There was a regular meeting of the city council last Tuesday evening. The regular business was transacted.

The Shamrock Club met Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hogan. The evening was spent in cards, and refreshments were served.

At the Highwood Methodist church tomorrow the pastor, J. C. Walker, will preach on "Gifts from Above." In the evening a special service will be held. At the evening service Misses Mabel Louise Berg and Anna May Mead will sing the duet, "When This Earthly Life is O'er."

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Methodist church will hold a bazaar in the City Hall on December 4, 5, 6 and 7. There will be a large amount of fancy work, children's clothing and groceries on sale, besides other useful and beautiful articles.

Mrs. W. W. Wagoner gave a children's party last Saturday for the children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lehman, who soon leave for Madison Barracks, N. Y. The little guests were Violet, Ethel and Myrtle Lehman, Frank, Arthur and Esther Swanson and Laurence Sperbach. The time was passed in games and music, and afterwards refreshments were served.

A farewell party was given last Tuesday evening for Mrs. Leonard by Mr. and Mrs. Whiting. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Waterhouse, Misses Edith and Nora Hanson, Miss Mamie Jerome, Miss Lily Whalen, Mr. Hickey, George Meriem and Patrick and James Hickey. Mrs. Leonard left Thursday morning for Baltimore for a short visit, after which she will join her husband, First Sergeant Cornelius Leonard of the 14th Battery, at Camp Columbia, Havana, Cuba.

Letter to Mr. E. G. Evans

Highland Park, Ill.

Dear Sir: A great many people will see your house in the course of the next ten years. We want it to show what Devoe lead-and-zinc will do. We should like you to paint it, and then not paint it again in ten years—unless it needs repairing.

We'd like such a surprise as that in every town in the country—with a notice about it in the local paper: "Mr. ———'s house was painted ten years ago with Devoe lead-and-zinc, and has never been repainted. The color is not so bright as it was; but the paint is as perfect a coat as ever, to keep out water."

A good lead-and-oil job is expected to last three years; it is a good one that lasts three years; it generally does not. Devoe lead-and-zinc lasts twice as long, if not:—

"If you have any fault to find with this paint, either now in putting it on, or hereafter in the wear, tell your dealer about it.

"We authorize him to do what is right at our expense."

We want your house as a sample and you as a witness.

Yours truly

F. W. DEVOE & Co.

Lecture at Ravinia Park

A lecture will be given at Ravinia Theatre on Thursday evening, November 22nd, by Captain Albert Ross, Commandant United States Naval Training Station at North Chicago. The subject of this lecture will be "The Evolution of the American Blue Jacket." The lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon and moving pictures. Captain Ross is giving this lecture for the benefit of the Deaconess Orphanage at Lake Bluff.

The latest venture in the publishing field is literally an attempt to "Corner" Santa Claus. The large publishing houses in their mad rush after the "best sellers" almost forgot the dainty and inexpensive little book, the illuminated card, the really artistic calendar, and the choice bibelot or folder that you and I want to put in some friend's stocking at Christmas time. The new catalogue of the Canterbury Company of Highland Park, Illinois, shows that it is specializing in just these things. It wouldn't know what to do with the "best seller." All it hopes for is to do its little things well.

Everyone will be glad to know of this opportunity to get ahead of Santa Claus. And after all it is the little gift that is dainty, unique and artistic that carries most surely the friendly message.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Methodist church will hold a bazaar in the City Hall on December 4, 5, 6 and 7. There will be a large amount of fancy work, children's clothing and groceries on sale, besides other useful and beautiful articles.

Mrs. T. M. Wilder will accept violin pupils. She is a former student of Wm. Lewis and Carl Becker, and has had much experience in teaching. Inquire Rice street, Ravinia, Ill. 11-10 3

A New Breed of Toys

Professors of Pedagogy and Psychologists tell us our American toys are very, very bad. They claim that our toys are too small and fragile, that they are too strongly colored, and too realistic,—telling the whole story and leaving nothing for the child's imagination.

It looks for once as if the Professors were right, for what they say is good common sense.

A little company of workers known as the Craftsman's Guild of Highland Park, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago, has just issued a catalogue of straight line toys that for oddity, durability and quaint humor, ought to attract wide attention.

Nothing like them was ever before made in this country although they have been making similar toys in Germany for two or three years. The elongated dachshund, the snub-nosed bull-dog, the straight-line rabbit, and the poster cow are among the most interesting figures, but the Kinderville which stands in the corner of the nursery and forms a child's play-house is sure to delight little hearts. The Kinderville is a three-winged burlap screen with a door in the centre wing and satisfies the natural desire of every child for a playhouse.

In addition to the single figures, of straight-line animals, the Craftsman's Guild makes picture-builders, roller-boards, hobby-horses, and children's furniture. All the product of the Guild is hand-made and very durable as well as artistic.

New Railroad Station

Like a new station on the railroad is the extension. You can reach your destination by boarding the train at the new depot; you can reach the exchange by talking from the extension. Its object is convenience and comfort. Fifty cents per month. Chicago Telephone Company.
