On Tuesday afternoon the Highland Park Woman's Club was addressed by Prof. John R. Loomis, principal of one of Chicago's best schools. His subject was "George Rogers Clark" and was well treated. The club had invited the Senior classes from the High school, Grammar school and Military Academy, and a good number of young people availed themselves of the opportunity, and were pleased with the afternoons entertainment. Mrs. McClellan furnished the music, two piano solos, both very pretty. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Alford, Mrs. Denman, Mrs. Hawkins and Mrs. William Grant.

The beautiful and large monument to be erected at the Lake Forest cemetery by Mr. Dreiska of Ravinia, will excel any thing of its kind in that yard. Mr. Dreiska's lot contains 5,00 square feet, on each corner of the lot is to be a stone post on which the initials of his name is placed, in the center of the lot is placed the monument; the first and second pieces above the bottom base is of the Royal Blue marble, while the bottom base is of a very light blue, making a contrast between the two, to the right of the monument is a little grave, at the head of which will be placed a Royal Blue marker, with the name raised on the top. The above work is being executed by Mr. R. G. Salyards.

Had the thieves that broke into the Gray's Electric plant on last Friday night succeeded in their attempt to get the electric fixtures and the dynamo from the building, they would have made a good haul, but were detected in time to save a loss, although they had succeeded in getting the electric fixtures from the walls and had started on the dynamo. In their haste to get away after being discovered, they gathered what few tools they had and escaped through a side door, leaving behind them two satchels and one carpet tool bag and a plumbers wrench. Who ever the parties were they most assuredly knew the lay of the building, having entered the building through the brick work and crawling at least one hundred feet beneath the building before reaching a small door that led to the boiler and electric room.

Mr. Blattel's Death

Mr. Mathias Blattel died on Wednesday morning, at his home in this city, of cancer of the liver. He was born in Sendhausen, Baden, Germany, in 1843. His wife died six years ago, and six of his children died in infancy. Mr. Blattel has been very ill for the past few months, although few knew the nature of his sickness. For many years he has been a respected citizen and a noble church worker, being a member of the Ebenezer Evangelical church. He leaves besides a host of friends two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Schriber, and Mrs. Anna Gastfield to mourn the loss of their father. His son-in-law, Mr. Phillip Schriber, was present at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Blattel in Germany, when he was a child. The funeral was held at the Ebenezer church on Friday, at one o'clock and the burial at Rose Hill.

Death of Mrs. Garrity

Mrs. Julia Garrity, wife of James Garrity, died on Monday evening, at her home on the Birch farm. Her death was caused by heart disease and her age was 59 years. She has lived the better part of her life here in Highland Park, and was married 38 years ago to Mr. James Garrity. She leaves beside her husband four sons, John, Frank, Roy and William and three daughters, Ella, Mary and Stella, to mourn her untimely death. The funeral was held on Thursday morning at St. Mary's church, of which she was a most devoted member. The burial was at St. Mary's cemetery, and her many friends showed their love for her by the large number present at the services.
