HIGHLAND PARK LADIES MANAGE GADS HILL

This week a committee of Highland Park women have been in charge of Gads Hill Encampment. Mrs. William S. Hibbard, Mrs. Robert B. Gregory, Mrs. G. H. Campbell, Mrs. Marshall E. Sampsell, Mrs. Nathan Corinth, Mrs. MacGregor Adams, and Mrs. Oliver have kindly acted as members of a managing committee. The total enrollment at camp is 261, and of these twenty-six were sent by the Visiting Nurses Association. There are a large number of children and babies among the party this week. A special table is always set for the babies half an hour before the regular meals, so that the mothers can come and feed them. Then, while the mothers eat, the babies are taken care of by some one of the workers. They are given scalded milk at nine in the morning, two-thirty and eight-thirty.

On Sunday, Rev. Richards, Episcopal Rector at Lake Forest, conducted the afternoon service.

One of the workers arranged an automatic doll show for Tuesday evening. The girls at Camp took part and the affair was very much of a success.

Mrs. William C. Egan of Highland Park will entertain on Friday afternoon the workers and waitresses at her delightful home.

The management wishes to announce a special exhibit of the kindergarten work, during the last week of camp, between nine and eleven-thirty.

It is suspected that a Philadelphia politician was in charge of the political campaign of some of the Filipino crooks who were elected to the legislature.

The copperhead snake which killed four Kentuckians by crawling into a keg of beer and dying there has furnished the Prohibitionists with another incident to point a moral and adorn a tale.

Important Announcement

TO OUR READERS.

CHANGE OF NAME

THIS WEEK WE ISSUE OUR PAPER UNDER the name of the North Shore News-Letter, so that its name may be in keeping with our aim to provide a weekly paper of high-class character, suited to interchange thought and news between all the towns along the north shore. This cannot, of course, be accomplished at once, but we begin with the next week's issue to widen our field by adding two or three correspondents from other north shore towns.

Several changes are now in process for the better management and equipment of the printing office. Mr. Bertram B. Udell, the new manager, not only takes a financial interest in the concern but he is a practical and experienced man, well informed in all branches of the business. He is making several changes which will enable him to undertake any kind of work known to the printer's art.

This interests us in connection with the paper because we expect to make such changes as will speedily call for a larger and better paper. For the past three months we have furnished a paper of twelve pages which may be regarded as only a beginning of our ideal for a local paper suited to the people of the North Shore.

TO ADVERTISERS.

One of the essential things in this change is a better form of display for our advertisers, and Mr. Udell has given us assurance that this shall be done. The change also involves a necessary revision of our advertising rates.

It will not be of interest to our patrons to tell them how much has been lost on the past absurdly low scale of charges. What they are interested in is that we propose to make every advertisement tell—to present it in such a form as to pay the advertiser. The paper is so far improved that it is a promise of other improvements and the circulation is now established and steadily increasing.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Subscribers are asked to please notice the date given on the mailing address of each week's paper. This shows that you are credited as having paid up to that date. As all subscriptions are due in advance, you are kindly requested to note these dates and act accordingly. If at any time an error creeps into the mailing list we shall be thankful for prompt correction.

May we not ask also that you will take an interest in promoting our subscription list. The basis of the paper is its list of subscribers and you can help to establish just such a paper as you desire by speaking a word to neighbors who do not take it.

NEW FEATURES.

Please observe also that the News-Letter is for interchange of thought and opinion. Your correspondence on any theme of local interest will be welcomed and a place given to it.

The new features will include general information of many things hitherto not supplied, and to this end the editor invites suggestions from all citizens along north shore towns.
