HIGHLAND PARK NEWS.

Mrs. Jessie Boyer leaves to-morrow (Sunday) night for Hot Springs, where she expects to remain a month.

In our list of Illinois inventions patented we notice one by Mr H. B. Clarke of report a very enjoyable time, notwithstanding the bad weather.

Penthalta Chapter O. E. S., gave a concert Thursday evening under the management of Mrs. W. Eddy, at Masonic Hall, Evanston.

North Shore Advisory Board of the Evanston Children's Home met at the Home on Ridge avenue for their regular monthly business meeting. Much business of importance regarding the Home was transacted. Tea was served by Mrs. C. P. Wheeler and Mrs. O. W. Hinckley. Mrs. F. C. Crowe, of Evanston,

High School in this line. There was a large and appreciative audience and the boys will clear about forty dollars for their athletic fund when all expenses are paid.

Among the musical numbers were three or four in which quite striking effects were secured. Two of these, "The

The Commercial Club will present a comic opera at Ravinia Park. M. Wm. Lowrie wrote the opera and it is entitled "The Secretary." Wm. Lyman Prior wrote the music which includes many excellent numbers. As this is the first formal presentation of Mr. Prior's works this will be of especial interest to his many friends and well wishers in Highland Park.

The cast includes the following, Mrs. F. B. Green, Mr. A. R. Williams, Mr. Earl Iredale of Evanston, Mr. L. Prior, Mr. Wm. Lowrie, Misses Alice Evans, Joy Miller, Helen Coale and Ella Conrod.

Mrs. Frank Green left last Thursday for a short visit to her brother, in Biloxi, Miss.

Mrs. Thompson, of second street, has been quite ill this week with the grippe.

Miss Anna Ogard left Thursday for a short visit to relatives in LaCrosse.

Mrs. Bender returned Wednesday from a six weeks visit in Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Colburn are the happy parents of a baby daughter.

Mr. R. G. Salyards, Lake Counties oldest Monumental dealer, on account of his home trade is obliged to attend to his business here, therefore his son P. B. Salyards will devote his time in traveling throughout the country, as salesman.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Whitman of Roger Williams avenue, have returned from a four months stay in Chicago.

The following announcement appeared in the Chicago Evening News of Mar. 3rd, and of interest to many Highland Park readers of the NEWS-LETTER.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Van Schaick and Harrison L. Van Schaick will be celebrated quietly at 8 o'clock this evening at 2024 Indiana avenue. Miss Randolph, who is a daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Randolph, is the granddaughter of the late George C. Walker, prominent in the city's early history. Dr. Herman Page will officiate, and as the bride is in mourning, only the immediate family will witness the service. Later a trip south will be taken by Mr. Van Schaick and his bride, and the Annex will be their home until further plans are made.

About thirty young people attended the dancing party at Monahan's Hall, Lake Forest last Saturday evening, they Elizabeth Vannie on Wednesday, February 27th. Though of the same name, it is understood the couple were not previously related.

Mrs. Annie Larkin was married to Mr. Sinnott last Saturday. We have no particulars of the event.

Miss Marcelline Pitts of W. Central avenue, has been very ill during the past two weeks.

On Tuesday last, the Highland Park Woman's Club listened to an interesting account of the drawing and other handwork as it is systematically carried on in our Central Grammar School. Mrs. Benedict, the gifted teacher of that department, in a simple straight forward way told of the aims and ideals which characterized their art work, and showed an array of charcoal and color sketches, stencil and other designs, as well as specimens of simple Indian pottery, which was a marvel to all present. These varied and tasteful specimens were the actual work of the children in the grades.

The afternoon's program included four songs sung most pleasingly by a chorus of children from the Lincoln avenue school.

The next meeting of the Woman's Club will be an open one, held in the Central Grammar School on the evening of March 17th. Mr. Jessie Smith will speak on "Our Wild Flowers in their Native Haunts" and illustrate with colored slides showing familiar views of neighboring haunts. The Young Woman's Glee Club of Lake Forest, numbering twenty voices, will render music. All will be welcome.

A Musical Comedy called "Cad" will be given by the Lake Forest Dramatic Club at the Elm Street School on Saturday March 14th. The admission is 50 cents and children 25 cents, the proceeds to be given to the School Art League. The entertainment is under the patronage of the following ladies:—Mrs. Henry S. Vail, Mrs. Henry Bacon, Mrs. Walter Baldwin, Mrs. Walter Carr, Miss Everett, Mrs. Carleton Moseley, Mrs. Frank McMullen, Mrs. De Muth, Mrs. Robert Patton, Mrs. H. H. Doty, Mrs. J. P. Smith, Mrs. Frank Partridge, Mrs. Frederick Cushing, Mrs. W. J. Louderback, Mrs. M. A. Ives, Mrs. W. D. Messenger, Mrs. R. S. Sandwick.

The comedy was given at Lake Forest a few weeks ago. Mr. H. J. Powers was so delighted that it is to be given at Powers Theatre the 19th of March for the benefit of the Children's Art Society.

On Tuesday afternoon, March 2nd the

On Monday evening, March 10th, the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society will hold its 25th. annual dinner at the Evanston Children's Home. Invitations have been issued, and as the number of plates is limited it is requested that all intending to respond to the invitation will send word to that effect not later than Monday. Those who cannot be accommodated at table will be welcome to the after-dinner program celebrating the quarter-centennial of the founding of the society. Addresses will be made by the Rev. R. A. White, Chicago, Prof. Chas. R. Henderson, Chicago University, Mr. H. H. C. Miller and others.

The Christian Science reading room in Highland Park is open every afternoon (except Sunday) from two until four o'clock, in the church building on Hazel avenue, near St. John's avenue. All are cordially welcome.

We are to have a moving picture theatre which will be opened today, (Saturday) at Goldbergs Opera Block, W. Central avenue. The enterprise is run by Mr. B. M. Seila. We see no reason why these moving pictures should not be available for instructive entertainment, but it is not in harmony with the spirit of this order loving community to open the place on Sunday.

Mr. Frank M. Terry is on his way to the Isle of Pines, where he will spend a month attending to Real-estate business.

The Rev. George Craig Stewart, the eloquent and popular rector of St. Luke's Church, Evanston, will preach in Trinity church, Highland Park, on Wednesday evening, March 11, at 7:45 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come.

Mrs. Carl Larson, mother of the Larson boys, is very ill. She has been quite low and as we go to press no improvement is reported.

High School Concert

The Concert of the Acme Glee Club of the High-School, on Monday evening past, was a great success. The club showed excellent training from the director, Mr. Lyman Pierce Prior; and the boys sang remarkably well for an organization of this sort. Then, too, this little French play, "La Poudre aux Yeux," was about the best thing ever done at the published opera; and the later, particularly, introducing a characteristic Indian dance and song with colored lights, scored a great hit. In this Prior's rich baritone voice was effectively shown. Harry Bock also proved to have a good voice, and his singing from behind the scenes in the Troubadour was very effective. Leonard Wolcott made a hit in "School Days," where he came in costumed as a country school girl in company with Herbert Mayer as a country boy.

Edwin Phillips played "The Butterfly by Paulina," and as an encore Grieg's, "The Doll's Waltz." Both of these numbers were done in excellent taste and with that precision and delicacy of touch that characterize his playing.

The following boys made up the Glee Club:—Eddie Atteridge, Harry Bock, Roland Brand, Clayton Denman, Robert Greenslade, Lester Levin, Wm. Martin, Herbert Mayer, Edwin Maecthle, Arthur McCaffrey, Norris Parratt, Egbert Spencer, Robert Shields, Harold Vant, Lorraine Webster, Leonard Wolcott, Roger Wolcott and Wm. Wrenn.

Mr. A. R. Williams gave one of his French-Canadian sketches in costume, which was much appreciated.

Gladys and Egbert Spencer, as Mme. and M. Malingear, each scored a real triumph. The mischief, brightness, and joy of Mme Malingear were all portrayed to the full; and M. Malingear's excellent comedy part with his professional manners were done in such a way as to keep the house in a titter. Laura Seymour and Earle McPherson made excellent jeune gens as the heroes of the plot, and looked interesting enough to give point to all the efforts of their fond parents. Mary Phillips as the aged and proper Mme. Ratinois, and Lloyd Rayes Ratinois pere; both excellent in their parts, as were also the cook, Catherine Culkin, the maid, Dorothy Clark, the footman, Glenn Maris and the Tapissier, Esther Kerfoot.

Mrs. B. ... dents at the High School an excellent talk on politeness on Thursday morning. She began with a quotation from Chesterfield, "True politeness is the just consideration for the feelings of others" and with this as a theme evolved a most interesting and instructive address, telling the students what to do and what not to do in the various social relations of everyday life. A number of questions had been asked by students on slips of paper put into a question box, and these Mrs. Fessenden answered fully and well. Her talk was received by the students with great enthusiasm, and was pronounced by all to be one of the best the school ever had and one of the most valuable.
