Mrs. W. E. Eddy, entertaining Miss Helen Eddy of Meringo, Iowa.

The Presbyterian Junior Club were entertained on Wednesday evening by Gray Stubbs and Francis Everett. These young people well knew how to celebrate April's Birthday and needed no urging to participate in the "pranks and plays" which had been so well arranged for them.

The imitations were in the form of a clown's head, while a "real" little clown welcomed the guests at the door of the Gray home.

On the table in the dining room were a circle of clown's heads, made of pop corn and candy, and in the center April's Birthday cake and lighted candles. After blowing out the candles with many good wishes and club "yells" there was some difficulty in cutting the cake, but a way was found inside, and toys and whistles flew out as did "The four and Twenty Black Birds that were Baked in a Pie."

The jolly evening was enjoyed by Edward Johnson, Samuel Tilden, Rowena Bastin, John Johnson, Leona Olmstead, Leslie Grant, Lois Green, Ellison Wrenn, Marj Park, Billy Cregier, Ethel Larson, Howard Schumacher, George Baldwin, Goodrich Schaufler, Earl Dexheimer, Raymond Geer, Lovell Underwood, Robert Bacon, Weston Waldo, Tom Underwood, Marshall Waldo, Winthrop James, James Parnell.

FATHER OF A GREAT FAMILY.

Forty-two Living Decendants,

Joseph Happ, Died March 24th, 1908. He was born in the year of our Lord 1825, June 1st. The beloved husband of Elizabeth Happ, who died March 14, 1892. He being a very old resident of Highland Park. The funeral services were held on March 27, 1908 at St. Mary's church, where High Mass was celebrated, thence by C. & N. W. Ry. to Cross Point for burial.

Mr. Happ was the father of 14 children 10 of whom are living, and Grandfather of 38 Grandchildren of which 26 are living and 6 Great Grandchildren are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving Grandfather and Great Grandfather. The ten children left to mourn the loss of a loving father are Mrs. M. Steffin, Highland Park; Mrs. C. Hewitt, Highland Park; Mrs. L. Casper, Wilmette; Mrs. B. Scheafer, Evanston; John Happ, Kennington; Mrs. E. Sasch, Highland Park; Mrs. J. Caspar, Highland Park; Joseph Happ, Wilmette; Mrs. M. Ziment, Chicago; Wm. Happ, Winnetka.

Mr. Happ came from Reunbrofinc in Der Rennbrofinc, Germany, Aug. 8th,

1843. He came to Chicago with his parents when yet a small boy. At the age of 21 taking active part in life traveling through the east and west, coming back to Chicago began hard work as Blacksmith, and in 1853 he took to himself a help mate, Mrs. Elizabeth Berdy who also came from Germany with her parents when yet a small girl. She being the daughter of the late Christian Berdy. And in 1856 Mr. Happ moved to New Trier where he spent part of his time in active farming and blacksmithing, from there he moved to Waukegan also following his trade while there. In 1867 he started a Blacksmith shop at Highland Park on the spot where the old shop still stands, and in 1868, after finishing his new house, brought his family with him and has made his home there ever since, he being one of the oldest settlers in Highland Park, coming here when there was but few houses and one store.

HIGHWOOD NEWS.

The many friends of Mrs. A. Seiffert news, she was taken to the Augustans Hospital Friday evening and her condition is still very critical.

FORT SHERIDAN NEWS.

The new game of Roco has been placed on the parade ground for the use of the men and it seems to be quite a success. The game resembles hand ball to a great extent, but when played, it causes more and quick action.

Beware of any cigar that Mrs. Lynch may hand you, for nine out of every ten are loaded with black powder or have some gun cotton stored up in the end.

The Artillery received 120 men this week. The next thing on the program is the gentle task of breaking in 150 nice new rukies. That the batteries are envied by the rest of the post goes without saying.

The base ball out look here is unusually bright, there being some very fast players among the new men. The manager has already listed games with Racine, Kenosha, Waukegan, Northwestern University, Lake Forest University, De Pau University and the Quaker Oats Company in Chicago. There are about eight pitchers all of which are in good condition and better back stops than Sounelly would be hard to find. To say it in a few words, the Fort Sheridan Base Ball team will be hard to beat during the coming season.

Towns with tail-end base ball teams will this year have a chance to appear more interested in the race for the presidency than in that for the pennant.
