DEATH OF A CITIZEN

The passing away of a man of rare good citizenship while yet in mid-life is always a source of sorrow and a sense of loss. William Hammond Hubbard was no ordinary man living for himself alone. He sought and labored for the world's good. He distinguished himself for good works in many ways. He was secretary of the Union League club for some time, also secretary and director of the Chicago Relief and Aid society, of which his grandfather, Charles G. Hammond, was the principal founder. He was treasurer for many years of the congregational new west education commission. His grandfather was the principal founder of this also. Mr. Hubbard was director of the Congregational Education society, and for some time superintendent of the New England church Sunday school. He was associated with Alexander Graham Bell in the practical application of the telephone, and was one of the first to hear the human voice over the telephone. Mr. Hubbard was born in Chicago in 1858. He graduated from Harvard in 1879 and in 1884 married Miss S. Ware of Cedar Rapids Iowa. There are four children who survive him, Martha, Alice, Ellinor and William. His death occurred at 12:45 on Monday June 1st, and the funeral service was held on Wednesday at the Lake Forest Presbyterian church.

Rev. C. P. GOODSON

MARRIAGE OF REV. C. P. GOODSON

The coming of the Rev. Columbus P. Goodson to the pastorate of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church has already been welcomed by his people. His marriage on June 2nd to Miss Bertha Irene Chapman, the eldest daughter of the well known Evangelist Dr. Wilbur Chapman, will greatly enhance the general interest.

The wedding service was conducted by the bride's father in the First Presbyterian Church, Warsaw, Ind. in the presence of a large audience of relatives and friends. The Church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and the music was given by Charles H. Marsh of New York. From the Chicago Tribune we take the following description of the event.

The bride was gowned in hand embroidered net over white satin and carried lillies of the valley. Her veil, which was draped back from the face, was held by a wreath of lillies of the valley. Miss Anita Bruce of Atlantic, Ia., was maid of honor. She wore pink brussels net over pink satin and carried white sweet peas. The bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Thompson of Winona Lake, Ind., and Miss Ethel Willis, of Peoria, Ill., both wearing gowns of pink silk mull trimmed in ecru lace. They carried pink sweet peas. Agnes Pruy Chapman and J. Wilbur Chapman DuBois, sister and nephew of the bride, were the ribbon bearers. The Rev. Mr. Goodson had George B. Harris of St. Louis for his best man and the ushers were Allan S. Wideman and Dr. C. C. Du Bois of Warsaw. Two tiny sisters, Clar and Lorinda Thompson, 4 years old, in white dotted swiss dresses and carrying baskets of pink sweet peas, served as flower girls and completed the bridal party.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception and dinner was given at Bungalow Villa, the Chapman home at Winona Lake, the Presbyterian summer assembly grounds just outside of Warsaw.

Mrs. Goodson attended Miss Hobbs school at Wilmington, Del., later taking up her musical studies in New York. She is a soprano of so exceptional talent that she attracted the attention of Mme Schumann-Heink last summer, who asked the privilege of placing Miss Chapman under the tutelage of European masters of voice culture at her own expense. Because of her marriage plans, however, Miss Chapman did not accept the opportunity. The bride has become widely known in America because of her association with her father as vocalist in evangelistic campaigns throughout the United States and Canada.

We recently published Mr. Goodson's portrait, but repeat it here because of the added interest, and regret that we have not a portrait of the bride, who will doubtless receive a royal welcome.

After June 15 Mr. and Mrs. Goodson will be at home at 311 Prospect avenue.
