Miss Sibyl Sammis gave a delightful song recital at the Highland Park Club on Tuesday. Our dramatic reporter was unable to be present but we are assured the occasion was a great success. This same may be said of the entertainment given on Thursday evening by the ladies of the Ossoli Club, assisted by Miss Jessie Harding.

A little accident that is not ordinarily within those things a reporter takes cognizance of was noticed by one of our reporters on Monday. Big Policeman No. 200, of Chicago, was seen feeding the pigeons which had collected under the Wells street bridge in the pouring rain, with some corn he had procured from a friendly hostler. It was only a little act but it indicated a kindly heart under the imposing brass buttons.

A STUDIO OF MUSIC

Highland Park has long been noted for its musical taste. Every summer the concerts at Ravinia Park are supported to large extent by the people of this town, and in fact it was due to this large patronage that the concerts were possible this past summer. There are in Highland Park many noted musicians and several eminent pianists and piano teachers, but there is not nor has there been until lately any one to teach vocal music, especially those just beginning this important branch of the work.

There is a prospect now that this need will be supplied. In the new Erskine building is one of the finest music recital halls to be found anywhere, and it is here that it is planned to open a studio. Miss Lillian Burgess, who has been in Omaha for several years studying under the noted Miss H. Estele Brown, has recently come to Highland Park, and at the request of music lovers has consented to take a limited number of pupils for vocal study.

By consulting our advertising columns prospective students may learn how to reach Miss Burgess.

A Young Men's Club.

Library Hall at the foot of St. Johns avenue, should be crowded to the doors to-night at 8 o'clock with young men interested in the practical problems of citizenship. For to-night the first meeting of the Young Men's Civic Club will be held.

This club was only recently organized. Its purpose, to quote from the tentative constitution of the club, is "to aid its members in acquiring a knowledge of their rights and duties as citizens. To encourage and promote by every proper means good citizenship among its members and all others entitled to the privileges of American citizenship, and to stimulate the growth of an earnest loyalty.

The committee desires the News Letter to announce that the club will in no sense be a partizan body, but will endeavor to discuss intelligently big civic questions of the day without regard to creed or bias.

Among the speakers are the Hon. H. M. Bacon, Hon. Geo. A. Mason, Mr. Howard Hill, instructor in history at the high school, and a number of others.

The Committee on Organization in charge of this first meeting consists of Messrs. Walter Weaver, C. A. Pfanstiel, Wm. B. Wrenn, Jr., Robert Shields, Paul Rudolph, Geo. E. Phillips, Jos. Schlagel, Bennett Schaeffer, Henry Coale and Stuve Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac McCurdy expect to occupy one of the new Darling cottages on Hazel avenue, November 1st.

Fire, Sunday evening, October 25th, destroyed the bungalow just completed by Wm. H. Titus on Longwood avenue in the woods close to the lake, about 300 feet north of the De Lang homestead. The little bungalow is about 200 feet back from the road, nicely nestled among the trees, approached only by a winding path. It was reported that the Titus family had come out from the city Saturday afternoon for a visit, leaving again about 6 o'clock Sunday evening; it was about 8 o'clock when neighbors discovered the trees all ablaze and spreading rapidly—alarm was sent to the fire company that the woods along the lake was on fire—two leads of hose was run through the grove among the trees and it was then discovered that the bungalow was doomed. However, the burning trees and underbrush was soon extinguished. Mr. Titus had but $600 insurance on the building, and says when he left the place there was a very little fire in the fire-place, and he was careful to see that everything was all right and especially that the grate was screened. He cannot give any reason as to the origin of the fire. He expects to rebuild.
