

MARRIAGE BELLS AT GLENCOE.

A wedding is always interesting and the marriage of Miss Ivy H. Creech of Glencoe to Mr. Wilfrid L. Burgess of Highland Park was an occasion of more than ordinary felicity and pleasure. The wedding took place on Monday evening at the home of the bride's parents on Lincoln avenue. The home is one of the most recently built in Glencoe and was erected by Mr. Harry Keene of the Chicago Case Mfg. Company who for years past has made his home with the Creech's. Recently Mr. and Mrs. Creech removed with their two daughters from their home in Park Manor, Chicago, to their new house and the wedding of their eldest daughter was a sort of threefold event including as it did a merry house-warming party, the 25th birthday of the bridegroom and the marriage festival. There was a large gathering of friends of both the families and especially of old companions of the bride who had lived nearly all their life at Park Manor. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wm. Burgess who was formerly pastor of the Park Manor Congregational Church and a unique feature of the occasion was that the whole of Mr. Burgess' eight children were present the bridegroom being the youngest of them. These included Mr. W. E. Burgess of the Daily Star, Montreal, Mrs. Emma F. Byers, General Secretary Y. W. C. A., Omaha, Neb., Mr. A. J. Burgess, of Springfield, Ill., Mr. F. H. Burgess, La Crosse, Wis., Mr. Roscoe M. Burgess, Mrs. W. Schagel, Miss Lillian Burgess, and the bridegroom who is a well known clerk of the Western Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago. The house was tastefully decorated and the occasion was suitably celebrated with music and feasting and the usual shower of rice, the young couple getting off well for a short vacation trip. They will be at their new home 234 N. Green Bay Road, Highland Park, after December first.

Baby's Prayer
By Byron Williams

Oh, God is near the cottage when the evening shadows creep,
And baby lips are murmuring: "I lay me down to sleep!"
No matter what the distance is where baby says her prayer,
The omnipresent God of Love is always watching there!

Ah, he who notes the sparrows fall and buoys the robin's flight,
Shall he forget the hour of dusk when baby says good night?
Shall he, aloof from baby's prayer and baby's laughter purl,
Deny himself the sweetest chords that charm a raptured world?

Ah, God is near when baby prays beside her downy bed,
And God will send his angels down to watch above her head—
To guard her through the Sleepy Way, the "boogy" wood of night,
And give her back to mother's arms when Phoebus takes her flight!

Ah, now the baby lips: "Amen!" and mother tucks her snug,
And kisses her, and pats her hair and calls her "mother's bug!"
And then she tiptoes from the room, as evening shadows dim,
And leaves her baby, fast in sleep, to angel guards—and him!

When a person goes to a chiropodist there is something very serious on foot.

A Chicago woman turned down the folding bed and then looked under to see if there was a burglar there.

"Success in life" is getting people to think as well of you as you think of yourself.

When you can't work at anything else you can try working your neighbor.

Manners make the man, this explains the underdone condition of some people.

The man who trusts to luck for his happiness will be in luck when he gets it.

We are liable to mistakes, but it's always the other fellow who makes blunders.

It is cowardly to speak evil of a man in his absence and sometimes dangerous to do so in his presence.

The man who is in the right doesn't have to get mad.

The self-satisfied man is seldom satisfied with anyone but himself.

People often ask advice in order that it may confirm their own opinions.

A great man never swaggers, but the man who thinks he is great does nothing else.

It is a great kindness to tell a man that he has done well if you don't spoil it all by telling him how he might have done better.

Circumstances do not make men, they discover them.

Memory is the thing you forget with.

The man who ought to listen and learn generally does most of the talking.

All men are willing to forgive as soon as they have had a chance to get even.

There is plenty of room in the world unless you try to spread yourself too much.

The young men of to-day are not satisfied with a push; what they want is a pull.

A woman has to marry a man to find him out; then she finds he is out more than half the time.

Publicity is now one of the greatest forces in modern business, and is proportionately as profitable in the smallest as well as the largest business. You don't expect to drive in a nail with one blow. Stop advertising and you are forgotten.
