

FAMOUS HOTEL ON MOUNTAIN TOP DESTROYED.

Owners Had Just Arranged Its Sale for $135,000-Spectacular Features of Fire.

ous old Lookout Inn, on the crest of Lookout mountain, was burned to the ground late Tuesday, together with all its contents. The owners, Messrs. Jung and Shammotulski, stated that a deal had just been consummated for the sale of the inn property, for a consideration of $135,000 and but for the fire the deal would have been closed Tuesday. There was but $26,000 insurance on the hotel and its furnishings. There were no casualties.

Aside from the hotel, four cottages and their contents were destroyed, entailing a loss estimated at $16,000. The amount of insurance on these could not be learned. The incline power house was badly damaged and the trestle on the face of the bluff was ablaze for a considerable time. night there was a streak of fire almost from the top to the base of Lookout mountain along the line of the incline, and a force of men was fighting it to prevent its spread to the timber and the many cottages which dot the slope of the mountain.

The general theory is that a defective flue was responsible for the fire. The building was as dry as tinder, and a high wind, which was sweeping across the mountain from the west, quickly carried the flames the entire length of the building, and the structure was consumed in a short time. From the city the fire was a spectacular one during its early progress, but soon the mountain was enveloped in a dense cloud of smoke and all that could be seen from high points in the city was what appeared as a terrible storm cloud from the southwest. With the coming of darkness the smoke cleared and the outline of the crest of old Lookout was marked by a rim of red

The hotel was completed in 1889 and contained about 400 rooms. Each season it has been visited by persons Henry of Prussia pronounced it the most ideal spot he had ever visited and the scenery more gorgeous than that of the Swiss Alps.

Vineland, N. J., Nov. 19.-The arrest of Walter Zeller, 19 years old, and Cline Wheeler, his 20-year-old companion, charged with the murder of William Read, grandfather of Zeller, has caused a sensation.
