WASHINGTON THOUGHTS

good condition by the public. Heavy traffic and fast speeding should be forbidden thereon.

The Park District has the power to create a park and take proper means to gain land from the lake at the point where Ravine Drive now reaches the lake to the point where Beech Street touches Lake Michigan.

LEGAL PROVISIONS. The statute of Illinois provides that a Park District "may take possession of, enclose, reclaim and protect any portion of submerged land" in the shoal water of any body of navigable water, and "shall have the power to establish, construct, and maintain parks and boulevards over and upon the same."

Higwood News. SPRING ELECTION

Lively times are promised in the coming elections. Mayor Hogan is reported to be returning from his long vacation to enter the fight again for the office of mayor.

Meantime the forces for a better citizenship are alive and it is openly announced that Mr. John Hodge will enter the lists for the mayoralty. Mr. Hodge is a man of character and is known as a strong opponent of lawlessness.

Penalty of Worrying.

You know a worrying woman the moment you see her. Her character is written in her face in wrinkles which you would think nothing short of a miracle would obliterate.

"Do justice to all, and never forget that we are Americans."

"It is impossible to rightly govern the world without God and the Bible."

"Let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion."

"Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence the jealousy of a free people ought to be awake."

"I am a member of an infant empire, a philanthropist by character, and a citizen of the great republic of humanity at large."

"No people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the Invisible Hand which conducts the affairs of man more than those of the United States."

"The preservation of the sacred fire of liberty and the destiny of the republican model of government are justly considered as deeply, as finally stated in the experiment entrusted to the hands of the American people."

"Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle."

"Of all the dispositions and habits, which lead to political prosperity, Religion and Morality are indispensable supports. In vain would that man claim the tribute of Patriotism, who should labor to subvert these great pillars of human happiness, these firmest props of the duties of men and citizens."

"It is of infinite moment, that you should properly estimate the immense value of your National Union to your collective and individual happiness; that you should cherish a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment to it; accustoming yourselves to think and speak of it as of the Pinnacle of your political safety and prosperity."

WHAT MEN SAY OF HIM.

"Just honor to Washington can only be rendered by observing his precepts and imitating his sample."

ROBERT CHARLES WINTROP.

"Every American is richer by the heritage of the noble deeds and noble words of Washington and Lincoln."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"Let us run high the old Flag, the old true Flag, the Flag of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln; the Flag of the Government of, for, and by the people; the Flag of national faith held sacred and of national honor unstained; the Flag of human rights and of good examples to all nations; the Flag of true civilization, peace and good will to men."

CARL SCHURZ.

ILLINOIS NEWS TERSELY TOLD

Chicago.—Only five candidates for judicial nominations, aside from the regular Republican and Democratic slate nominees, presented petitions when County Clerk Haas opened his office, the first for the receipt of petitions for circuit and superior judgeship nominations, but out of the filing of one of these five independent petitions court action has threatened to develop. P. C. Glida, a husky young man who carried the Democratic slate petition in his hands and who stood at the head of the short Democratic line, tried to file a petition for Ferdinand J. Karasek for a Republican nomination ahead of the Republican slate at the same time he handed in the organization petition of his own party.

Springfield.—Daniel D. Healy, receiver of the Bank of America, brought suit for $30,000 against the Illinois Surety Company in the superior court. The suit is to recover for creditors of the defunct institution on bonds issued by the surety company for three principal officers of the bank.

Mount Vernon.—Incorporation of the Terre Haute & Southwestern railroad from Terre Haute to Williamsville, Mo., was announced. The road is planned to be built from Terre Haute to Mount Vernon and to connect with the Wabash, where it crosses the Mississippi river and runs to Williamsville. The Illinois fruit and coal fields will also be penetrated by the road.

Chicago.—Fire in the rooming house of Mrs. Annie Ford, 2211 Michigan avenue, routed a dozen persons living there and sent them shivering into the street in their night clothes. Mrs. Ford was awakened by the odor of smoke and immediately ran through the house awakening her roomers and telling them of the danger.

Peoria.—Baron Takahira, the Japanese ambassador, reached Peoria and took part in the Lincoln celebration here. There was some doubt as to his coming, on account of a severe cold, but he recovered sufficiently to attend. The Creve Coeur club banquet at the Coliseum was the most successful in its history.

Ashland.—T. E. Brents of Oklahoma and Herbert Sero were bound over to trial in $800 and $1,000 bonds, respectively, on charges preferred by two married Chippewa women, Mrs. Dan Morrison and Mrs. Geesling. Brents has been a government officer for 14 years and Sero is an Indian policeman.

San Jose.—The second silver medal contest of the San Jose class was held at the church in Natrona. The prize was awarded to Annette Pergandes, with Willie Curtis second. In addition to those who participated in the contest, Miss Eliza Davis sang two solos and Miss Emma Diers gave a reading.

Kewanee.—Kewanee withdrew from Illinois valley racing circuit at the annual meeting held at Aurora, this action being considered advisable because of inability to secure a track. The Fair association has refused the request for use of its fine track for the summer racing.

Lincoln.—Lincoln paid tribute to the martyred president, the man from which it derived its name, at the centennial celebration held in the opera house. Rev. Euclid B. Rogers, pastor of the Central Baptist church of Springfield, was the principal orator of the evening.

Chicago.—Jacob M. Dickinson, general counsel of the Illinois Central railroad, mentioned in press dispatches from Washington as practically sure to be named secretary of war, denied having been tendered that post or any other in President-elect Taft's cabinet.

Chicago.—Ludis Sinkelstein, a tailor, living at 640 Lake street, asked Post Office Inspector Stuart to investigate a comic valentine which was received by him, on the back of which were written alleged, slanderous charges against himself and wife.

Chicago.—The police of Chicago and surrounding cities began a search for David Newhall, said to be a prominent business man of Toronto, Ont., on a warrant asking his arrest for the theft of a check for $5,000 on the Bank of Toronto.

Lincoln.—The inmates of the Illinois Odd Fellows' Home of this city will be entertained by the Bloomington Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges June 24. The children will be entertained at Miller park in Bloomington.

Chicago.—Bertha Menzler Dressler of Chicago has been awarded the Young Fortnightly club's prize of $100 in connection with the large exhibit of paintings and other examples of art now in progress at the Art Institute.

Chicago.—President Otto C. Schneider of the board of education said that Superintendent of Schools Cooley will resign his position within a short time to become president of D. C. Heath & Co., book publishers of Boston.

Sterling.—Miss Bertha McGonigal of Tampico, 26 years old, committed suicide, taking an ounce of carbolic acid.

Chicago.—Policeman John Donovan, who was never absent from duty a day in 18 years' service, died at St. Anthony's hospital. He was 55 years old and lived at 223 Sacramento avenue. He arrested Chris Painter, whose trial for the murder of Alice Painter and execution attracted wide attention.

Chicago.—Joseph Tasterky, 63 years old, 50 Larrabee street, father of nine children, was freed of a charge of larceny. He had been accused of stealing a ham from a market at 48 Green street. The police found his story of poverty was true and the case was dismissed.

Finding Friends. "When I first came to this town to live," said a young married woman, "I met a lady who discussed, analyzed nearly every one I met, rehearsed everybody's past deeds and character according to her own likes and dislikes and estimates. I was foolish enough to let her words influence me, so that I must confess, I was prejudiced this way and that; and a crooked and devious path I trod for a time. Eventually I found most of the people more kindly and companionable than she
