

rank and noxious and offensive weeds, scattering their seeds far and near, and the rest of the year it is strewn with papers and other refuse. Last summer it was some of the time used as a cow pasture. The owner of that lot is a personal friend of the writer, but if he will not improve it or sell it to some one who will improve it, but continues to hold it unoccupied while its value steadily is increased by the improvements made by resident citizens and property owners, then in all fairness should not such property be assessed sufficiently to enable the city to keep it cleaned up?

LATEST ITEMS.

Our report in another column shows that Killen received 98 votes, whereas it should read 89. Mr. Woolley therefore was a successful nominee for councilman.

Mr. Geo. Hicks was the president of the Sunday School convention—not Mrs. Hicks, who was present as a delegate only.

SCHOOL BOARD INTEREST.

Great interest is manifested in school matters at Glencoe. If the Board will now advertise a mass meeting at which all the people, including the ladies, have an opportunity to learn how matters are run, there will be one of the best mass meetings ever held in this town.

Our Outlook

ANYTHING TO DEFEAT LAW

There is a rumor that an effort is to be made to extend the limits of the City of Highwood so as to reach beyond the mile and one-eighth limit and so introduce saloons again.

It is to be hoped that the citizens will be sufficiently alive to any such scheme to put a complete quietus upon it. Highwood has suffered enough from its past saloon system and is even yet smarting under the bad name and costly efforts attending and following it.

One would think that even the liquor dealers would have had enough of fighting with Uncle Sam and with the law courts in but they seem to think that in the long run it will pay to defeat law.

RUIED BY PROHIBITION.

A young traveling man in the South writes home to his parents in Chicago, relative to a conversation he had with a Minneapolis saloon keeper while at the hotel breakfast table. The saloon keeper is the proprietor of one of the largest saloons in the city, which under the new State law is to become "dry" next July, and during the conversation he remarked to the Chicago man. "Well sir, when this law goes into effect I will be a ruined man financially." Every thing I have will go, and I must start all over again in some new business. He stated, however that he did not feel badly hurt about it, as, although he had been a whiskey man and had sold it all his life, he recognized it as the root of all evil and ruining more lives than any other thing. He called it the curse of the country, and said that when the question came to a vote he voted for prohibition.

This saloon keeper predicted that in ten years we would have nation wide prohibition.

TO ABOLISH TEMPERANCE TEACHING.

It is probable that a bill will be introduced in the Illinois Legislature to do away with instruction in the public schools as to the effect of alcohol on the human body. It is stated that liquor dealers are going to make an effort to put this bill through. It is to be hoped that every voter interested in temperance legislation, and who wish the youths of our State to be posted on these important matters will urge his representative in the Legislature to vote against this bill if presented.

"A SCRAP OF PAPER."

Great interest is being felt in the approaching production by Manager George Millard and the Alumni Association of the Deerfield Township High School of Mr. J. P. Simpson's "A Scrap of Paper," a comedy drama in the acts. The piece is one of the farces which, being written before the day of Salome, is clean and yet exceedingly funny. Those who have seen it presented say there is a laugh in every line. The characters are widely diversified in nature and the interpretation of each has been left to an artist. The production, Manager Millard informs us, is under the personal direction of Mr. Arthur Williams, formerly of Kenyon College and the University of Michigan, who has had a wide experience in such matters. He has assembled a picked cast of the most talented of the Alumni. The leading roles are assumed by Mr. Williams himself and Miss Gertrude Nevins ably supported by Messrs. Joseph Colburn, Arthur Steele, George E. Phillips and Lester Levin, and Misses Viola Shields, Helen Coale, Lillie Bell, Majorie Aldridge and Nellie Fitzgerald. Rehearsals are now in progress and all signs point to a banner production on Friday evening, April 30th, at Ravinia Theater.

A Letter from One of Our Many Satisfied Patrons:

February 15, 1909.
 St. Peter Brothers,
 City.
 Dear Sir:—
 Enclosed find my check for $2.75, the amount of my laundry bill. As this is perhaps the last bill I shall have of you before I leave for my new home in Des Moines, Iowa, I take this occasion to thank you for your uniform courtesy and kindness to me and my family; for the uniformly high grade work performed; for the promptness of the service; for your cheerful readiness to correct any error which might occur, of which there have been but very few. I hope I shall have as good a laundry in my new home.
 Again please accept my heartfelt thanks.
 Yours,
 (Signed) LEWIS B. HIBBARD.

We try to treat all our customers just like this and we feel that we can satisfy you.

REMEMBERED BY MANY.

The Shaftsbury, Vermont, correspondent of the Bennington, Vermont, Daily Banner, thus writes of the late Mrs. Harry G. Peck, nee Molly S. Bottom; every good word of which will be approved by the many in Highland Park who knew her services in our public schools:

Died in the town of Salem, N. Y., Feb. 11, 1909, Mrs. Molly S. Bottom Peck, wife of Harry G. Peck and daughter of H. Merie and Fiddle (Dunlap) Bottom of Shaftsbury. Mrs. Peck had been ill with pleurisy for over a year, having contracted a cold while living in Schenectady, N. Y., which developed into pleurisy in the right side, from which she partially recovered. A few months before her death the disease attacked the other side from which in her weakened condition, she could not rally.

For several years she had been a successful teacher in the town where she was born and later went to Illinois where followed the same profession, until called home to care for an invalid sister and later her mother who became ill. She willingly gave up a lucrative position to care for them and it seems she gave up far more—her life—, as her failing health dated from that period. Being of a sunny and happy disposition, she did all possible for them without a murmur.

She had been a consistent member of the Baptist church since a child, always taking an active part in all enterprises pertaining to the welfare of the church and community in which she lived. A talented musician, always a member of some choir, in which she was always considered one of the most valuable members.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck were married July 23, 1907, and took up their residence in Schenectady, N. Y., where they lived for about nine months and where only happiness reigned until her illness. They then went to the home of Mr. Peck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Peck where every attention was shown the invalid which was always appreciated by her. She was of great assistance to her husband, who was most devoted to her, to whom she never spoke other than kind words. She received his constant care throughout her entire illness.

Mrs. Peck was born in Shaftsbury August 3, 1877, and is survived by her husband, her father, and one sister, Mrs. Stella Barrett of Putney, Vt., and two brothers, Norman D. and N. Hugh both of Shaftsbury.

Mr. Roosevelt will carry a phonograph along with the other things in that African outfit. Has the man no mercy whatever in his heart for wild beasts?

Highwood News.

Miss Emma Bess of Highwood entertained the Y. L. S. C. Club at her home on the evening of Tuesday, March 16, 1909. A large number were present. Refreshments were served and all reported a good time.

The Misses Elsie and Mable Danner and Mr. William Danner Jr. of Glencoe, spent Sunday March 14, '09, with their aunt, Mrs. Bess of Highwood.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Baker of Chicago were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Vencil Muzik, Wednesday; they formerly lived in this city and have a host of friends here.

On Tuesday afternoon the little two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Welsh, died. The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon. Mr. Welsh is a Conductor on the C. & M. E. railway.

There will be a young people's rally at Highwood Swedish M. E. Church on Sunday, March 28, afternoon and evening. The afternoon services will be in English and will be held between the hours of 3 and 5. The evening services will begin at 7 o'clock. Rev. O. J. Sandberg and Prof. John E. Hillier will address these meetings. A luncheon will be served between the meetings. All are cordially invited to attend.

"BLIND PIGS" AND THE VICE THEY STIMULATE.

Chicago, as every one knows, contains many hundreds of "blind pigs"—places which sell liquor without a city license, though very careful to have federal government license. Their profit is made partly from the high price they charge for liquor and partly from the vice to which they cater as their main cause for existence.

The other day the proprietor of one of these places was brought into the Municipal Court, found guilty and fined the ridiculously small sum of $25. The conviction will have no effect on similar illicit sales of liquor, but it serves to call attention in a special case to what is a most great evil.

The above is from editorial in the Record Herald of March 17. When we said recently that "blind pigs" are not the fruit of prohibition we were told that we ignored facts. Yet here is a great Chicago paper declaring that everybody knows that there are many hundreds of these vile dens in that city. If Chicago were to close its licensed saloons, it would be instantly announced that all these "many hundreds" of blind pigs are the outcome of prohibition.

The truth is that the liquor traffic is essentially an outlaw. It exists by lawlessness and will perish when the law is enforced. License laws are no protection against this lawless traffic. The saloon keeper does not think of keeping the law. Whether licensed or not the liquor sellers only limitation is the application of the "big stick" of law.

By all means bring the big stick down heavily in the vice breeding "blind pig", but do not stop there. The evil is in the traffic whether licensed or unlicensed.
