The first quarterly report of the Glencoe State Bank which has just been submitted to the officers and directors by Mr. Frank A. After the business meeting of the Woman's Library club last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Francis J. Wooley presided over an interesting "housekeepers hour". The club members had been asked to bring any tools, contrivances or "discoveries" whereby the work of the household could be lightened. These methods were explained and discussed as to their practicability and efficiency. A vacuum cleaner was demonstrated. A rug previously well beaten and swept, and a mattress were submitted to its cleaning process and yielded an astonishing amount of dust. The large number of labor savers originated by the Glencoe women rivalled the "House-keeper's page" in the Sunday papers by their varied nature.

An afternoon event which appealed especially to the hearts of music lovers was the recital given by Mrs. William Spencer Crosby at their beautiful home, "Crosbycroft", on Sunday, April 4th. About 150 guests from Chicago, Winnetka, Highland Park and Glencoe were present. Mrs. Crosby told the story of "Parsifal" and explained the different themes which composed this grand and well known musical composition of Wagner's. And then followed the rendition of the entire opera which was executed in a brilliant manner, which proves Mrs. Crosby's exceptional abilities and marks her the artist. Another recital will be given on Easter Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Dramatic Notes

McVickers: "The Sins of Society" will have its first American presentation in McVicker's Theatre, Chicago, Wednesday evening, April 14. The play tells a dramatic story of life in the highest circles of English society, showing the evils of gambling, either on the race track or at Bridge Whist, and pointing to the inevitable ending of a career that has to do with social follies and crimes. Fourteen scenes, and all of them big ones, are required to illustrate this thrilling tale, and for the transportation of these scenes and the hundreds of superb costumes that are used in the melodrama, six baggage cars are necessary. The cast which will interpret the play has over two hundred fifty people. A large number of parties from the surrounding towns and cities are forming for the purpose of seeing the first performance, which will be the most important of the year in theatrical circles. Seats will be on sale after Thursday April 8, and mail orders will have prompt and immediate attention. In case letters are sent ordering seats they must be accompanied by check, post office order, draft or express order and must have self-addressed envelope enclosed for answer.

The regular scale of McVickers prices will be maintained for the engagement; viz: 25 cents, 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.

Studebaker: Contentment reigns supreme around the Studebaker for Dustin Farum in "Cameo Kirby" is the magnetic attraction of the theatrical field in Chicago these days. Mr. Farum's play is romantic, thrilling and fascinating and the story is powerful in its interest from the time the first curtain discloses the drawing room of a Southern home in the early 30's until the darkies sing their way to the cane fields along the Mississippi at the close of the final act. The action is intense, one might say, melodramatic, and Dustin Farum is undoubtedly the most capable actor of the present time to assume such a characterization as is demanded by the interesting role of Kirby, the gentlemanly gambler. James Lackaye, Donald Gallaher, the boy actor about whom so much has been written of late, May Buckley, Nora Sheiby, James Seelye, Richard Pitman, Gordon Johnstone and others appear in the supporting company.

Whitney: "The survival of the fittest," is one of the old reliable adages and in the case of the phenomenal success of "The Boy and The Girl," at the Whitney, Chicago, it is particularly applicable for in this fourth week of its western engagement this swing song show by Richard Carle has distanced all competitors and to day it is up in front, "making the running," and it will be long remembered and one of the best "girl shows" Chicago has ever seen. A new summer Edition, with new songs, new dances, new music has been put on and with three matinees weekly, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, the first two being "bargain days" a particular appeal is made to the visitor from out of city.

Princess: "The Princess of tonight" with Henry Woodruff and Georgia Caine and a number of winsome others is clean and gorgeous musical comedy which is well worth seeing. The piece "Tonight will never come again", sung by a male chorus is particularly good.

La Sille: Winona Winters, Harry Tighe and a good number of others contribute to make up the greatest musical comedy hit in recent years. The new comedy it is announced will play all summer. We recommend to those desiring to "ease the anguish of a torturing hour" but who don't care for Ibsen or Shaw.

At Ravinia Theatre:—As an added feature for the production of P. Simpson's comedy drama "A Scrap of Paper," which the Alumni Association of the Deerfield Township High School will present on Friday evening, April 30th at Ravinia Theatre, Manager George Millard has secured Miss Dorothy Clark of the Hinman School of Dancing for two entre-acte specialties. Miss Clark is well known in Highland Park and the adjacent North Shore cities and first attracted the attention of Miss Hinman early last summer by her performance as a wood nymph in the ballet of the Donald Robertson production of "The Chaplet of Pan." She also had a prominent place in the fairy ballet of the last D. T. H. S. Senior class's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The play itself is fast putting on a professional appearance. The Alumni Association contains among it an unusual number of dramatically gifted members and from the cream of these alone took part in the play.

"Emeralda" At Ravinia Park Scores Tremendous Hit.

The play selected as announced in these columns last week was the Burnett Gillette comedy drama, "Emeralda." The Theatre was packed to the full. The sight of so many faultless dressed men and women was of itself an inspiration to those behind the scenes, and of much excellence were the fruits of the inspiration, for the actors seemed to have acquired an intuitive ability of being in the right place at the right time. In this they showed much careful training on the part of their coach, Mr. Stradman. Then the actors themselves were a distinct surprise. The play, "Emeralda" has a lot of romance in it, which is any but master hands would have been nauseating. The caste as a whole was excellent. Miss Claudine Wilkinson and Miss Perdita Dewey creating especially effective pictures. Miss Wilkinson's scene in the ball room was fine. Of the men, Mr. Westbrook's character portrayal of the "comedy old man" of the play was very effective. Mr. Popes' picture of the comedy male role of the play was excellent in places. We were glad to learn the entertainment realized its promoters a neat sum as its excellence fully deserves.
