ADVANCES PLAN TO HOLD LENGTHY SESSIONS TO END DISCUSSIONS.

Dolliver of lows Causes Finance Committee Chairman to Retract Statement About "Bringing Importers" Briefs" Here.

Washington, June 2.-Apparently the senate is upon the eve of night ssions for the consideration of the tariff bill. Senator Aldrich, chairman of the committee on finance, indicated in an official way his intention of asking for such sessions by presenting a resolution providing that, be ginning next Tuesday, the daily sessions should begin at 10:30 a. m. and continue until 11 p. m., with an intermission of 21% hours, from 5:30 to 8 p. m., for dinner.

Culberson Prevents Consideration. Senator Culberson, the Democratic caucus leader, prevented immediate consideration of the resolution by making an objection, which had the effect of forcing it over. Senator Aldrich, however, gave notice that he would move a recess at 5:30 until 10:30 a. m., with the intention of then asking for night sessions and the carrying out thereafter of the program as indicated in his resolution. There is no doubt that the Republican majority, including the progressives, will support him in his

"Threat" by Aldrich. During the discussion caused by the resolution, Senator Aldrich stated that unless greater progress should be made next week still longer hours Chicago.-Policeman Michael Far will be necessary. Senator Bailey characterized the remarks of the chairman of the finance committee as "a threat," but Senator Aldrich declared that such was not the case, and tor employed in the plant of Swift & in support of his declaration called the senate to witness the fact that there had been no effort to curtail debate on the tariff. Resisting this amendment, Senator Aldrich referred to senators who "bring importers' briefs here" to affect the schedules, and argued that the ad valorem rates, through interpretations made upon the rates of the Dingley law had been reduced from 60 per cent. ad valorem to two, three or four per cent. It was to prevent this kind of lowering of the rates that the committee proposed to have specific rates, he said.

The reference of the senator from Rhode Island to senators bringing "importers' briefs here," brought the Iowa senator to his feet in an attempt to interrupt the speaker. Aldrich declined to yield and Senator Dolliver was obliged to wait, with ill-concealed indignation until he could get the floor in his own right.

"The honorable senator from Rhode Island," began Senator Dolliver, with deliberation and in sarcastic tone, "seems to think this is a good time to settle things agree with him."
